CASES REACH TWO HUNDRED

Fleeing Italians Spreading the Yellow Fever in New Orleans.

ARE NOW PENNED IN

Outside States Are Sending Their Quarantine Guards Even Into Infected City.

PHYSICIANS ARE HOPEFUL

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 27.—With the yellow fever cases reported today, the aggregate since July 13 runs close to 200 cases. These are included in 20 to 25 centers. The first center included the quarter around the French market, where the fever first appeared, and where a large proportion of the cases and fatalities have occurred. This quarter includes about 40 city blocks. Italians in this region are notoriously prone to avoid physicians, and the fever got a foothold in the settlement before it became known to the health department.

No precautions were taken to destroy the mosquitoes, and the scourge spread with such rapidity that, out of the cheap and crowded lodging houses, the Italians who could get away fled in terror, some going to friends in other parts of the city, some going by rail to surrounding towns and some by boats into settlements along the coast. The result is the appearance of cases of yellow fever in various part of New Orleans, but principally southeast of Canal street in neighborhoods of the poorer classes. Six hundred groceries and saloons in New Orleans are owned by Italians, and many of these shops readily gave shelter to fear-stricken compatriots.

Almost every instance of a new fever center outside of the French market district is that of an Italian who escaped thence, or of some one of a different nationality whose business was in that quarter. There have been 10 fever centers above Canal street, traceable to the original center, and one in Algiers, across the Mississippi river. The Algiers case was of an American boy, proving fatal, whose employment was in the infected quarter. No subsequent case has appeared in Algiers.

City Gets Good Cleaning-Up.

A great cleaning campaign has begun. Every ward is thoroughly organizing, with precinct organizations radiating from the major body. Yet, while it is thought no harm can come from the most thorough cleaning that New Orleans has had since Ben Butler's time, the men of science do not think the cleaning of streets and back yards will prevent a single case of fever.

"Cleaning up streets and removing dirt from gutters is energy thrown away," declared President Kohnke of the city board of health to a delegation of citizens who called to consult him on the subject. "You ought to put every man you can get hold of to screening cisterns and draining standing water from premises."

Emergency Hospital Ready.

The emergency hospital, which has been fitted out for the care of yellow fever patients, was in full operation today. It is situated in an old building in the heart of the French quarter. Patients are removed to it in a screened ambulance.

A visit to the French market section today gave little visible evidence of the serious epidemic that has prevailed in that quarter. Two weeks of hard work by the public cleaning gangs showed results in the general cleanliness of the surroundings, but there was no excitement among the residents. Every avenue of egress from the city has been closed by rigid quarantines and uninfected quarters of the city are discouraging any further invasions by Italians. Landlords are refusing to rent to Italian tenants. It is thought wiser for them to remain where they are at present, and where they are to be charitably cared for if in distress and nursed if ill.

Detention Camps Open.

Detention camps established by the Marine hospital service to enable persons to leave the city for regions quarantined against New Orleans were opened today. Permits to enter these camps are to be obtained from the physicians of the

THE WAR PARTY REVIVES

Is Stirring Up the Russians by Making Public a Message from Czar.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 27.—The war party is again making headway, drawing capital from Gen. Linevitch's optimistic telegrams, one of which with the emperor's reply declaring that the misfortunes of war have not shaken his belief in the courage and devotion of the army and containing a glowing wish that the troops may bring the war to a happy conclusion, is published in all the papers.

The substance of the interview in New York with M. Sato, spokesman of the Japanese peace envoys, was reproduced in the papers here. The Novoe Vremya indulged in a sarcastic fling, saying that "Japan has conducted the war quite economically, only a million a day, but she had better present the bill to those who are furnishing the sinews of war and not to the country upon which the war was forced."

The Viedomosti directs sharp criticism at the visit of Secretary of War Taft and Miss Roosevelt to Japan, and says the moment for the trip was tactlessly chosen. The paper adds that the efforts to prove the visit devoid of political meaning is "childlike."

CAN GO INTO BUSINESS.

J. Pierpont Morgan Returns With Enough New Suits to Start a Clothing Store.

NEW YORK, July 27.—(Special.)—J. Pierpont Morgan is coming back from London with half a ton of clothes. To be a bit more definite, there are 127 suits, enough folded and piled on top of one another to reach from the sidewalk to the fifth story of a big building; and they cost more than $10,000.

The average man hardly knows what he would do with 127 suits. But Mr. Morgan likes to be well dressed and he likes a multiplicity of suits; yet never before has he come back from Europe with such an outfit. True, he was over there five months, and traveled more like a prince of one of the reigning houses than a simple American millionaire, so perhaps he needed most of these clothes over there.

TWO WITNESSES IN CONTEMPT

New York Brokers Refuse to Tell Grand Jury What They Know of Cotton Leaks.

MUST TESTIFY OR GO TO JAIL

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Room 16, Postal Building.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.

F. A. Peckham and Moses Haas of New York city, who are accused by Mr. Wilson, the secretary of agriculture, of being associates of Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., and others in the "leak" of cotton crop reports, are tonight confronting one of the most serious difficulties of their lives. It is not improbable they will spend tomorrow night in the jail of the District of Columbia, where they are likely to be committed for contempt of court.

Messrs. Peckham and Haas were subpoenaed by District Attorney Beach to appear before the grand jury today. They came to Washington accompanied by Mark Alter of New York, their attorney, who advised them that under the Constitution they were not obliged to answer any questions which might place their liberty in jeopardy. Mr. Alter was not admitted to the grand jury room, and when Messrs. Peckham and Haas were questioned it is said they refused to answer.

It is understood the witnesses were informed by the district attorney that if they refused to answer it would be contempt, and they would be given until tomorrow finally to decide whether they would persist in their silence. They were then served with subpoenas requiring their attendance before the grand jury tomorrow morning.

Judge Thew Wright of the supreme court of the District of Columbia will be in court tomorrow ready to act on the cases of Messrs. Peckham and Haas if they should still refuse to answer questions, and be cited before the court by the district attorney. Judge Wright has been very severe lately in dealing with persons who have been deemed guilty of contempt.

The department of justice is becoming thoroughly aroused over the difficulties it has encountered in seeking to bring to justice offenders in the cotton case, in and out of the department of agriculture.

Mr. Hyde was dismissed last Tuesday. About that time the district attorney requested from Secretary Wilson copies of all reports on crops prepared by the bureau of statistics during the last three years. Mr. Hyde and his private secretary, Mrs. Bertha Burch, were permitted to prepare this evidence for the district attorney and forward it to him on Friday. Mrs. Burch resigned that day. She undoubtedly knows more about the workings of the bureau of statistics than anybody else except Holmes and Hyde.

Mrs. Burch will probably be a witness before the grand jury next week. In 1901 she was implicated in an investigation made by the civil service commission into an examination for the position of special statistical compiler. In one paragraph of the report of the commission it was stated that employes of the division of statistics were improperly and unfairly assisted in their preparation for the examination by disclosures made by Mrs. Bertha Burch, who was then stenographer to the statistician. The examination was therefore canceled.

Secretary Wilson refused to disturb Mrs. Burch in her position. He said she had done nothing to which he could take exception.

BISHOP ISAAC JOYCE DIES OF HEMORRHAGE

MINNEAPOLIS, July 28.—Bishop Isaac W. Joyce of the Methodist Episcopal church died at midnight as the result of a hemorrhage and paralysis suffered on July 3 while preaching at a camp meeting.

DESPERATE FEUD BATTLE

Clans Clash in Kentucky and Fierce Fight Results Fatally for Two.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OWINGSVILLE, KY., July 27.—In a desperate encounter between the Mullins and Fleming factions of feudists, Sol Mullins, leader of the Mullins faction, was killed. William Mullins wounded, and Jeff Fleming was fatally hurt.

The battle took place on Boone Fork in a lonely mountain section, near the border of Letcher and Pike counties. The Mullins were led by Sol Mullins, and the Flemings by Sol Fleming. The two leaders opened fire on each other and their men joined in. Sol Mullins led his followers in a fierce charge, which the Flemings met with a rain of bullets. Sol and Will Mullins fell, wounded, and when Jeff Fleming was seen to fall the battle ended by Sol Mullins' consent.

While attention was being given the wounded Sol Mullins died. Sheriff Thacker of Mercer county went to the scene with a posse and arrested three of the Mullins gang. Sol Fleming refused to submit to arrest and fled with his men to the mountains.

KANSAS GRAFTER IS SENT TO PENITENTIARY

KANSAS CITY, July 27.—The motion for a new trial filed by Frank Campbell, member of the board of education in Kansas City, Kas., convicted in the district court of that city of accepting a bribe for his vote in the awarding of a contract by the board, was overruled this morning, and Campbell was sentenced to serve from one to seven years in the state penitentiary.

Mayor Is Accused of Sunday Selling.

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 27.—(Special.)—Mayor Frank Millhorn of Dillonvale was arrested today on a charge of Sunday selling, the charge being preferred before Justice Prentiss. Millhorn opened a saloon and his partner ran it.

NAVAL INQUIRY BEGINS

Preliminary Steps Taken to Open the Bennington Explosion Investigation.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Rear Admiral C. F. Goodrich, commander-in-chief of the Pacific squadron, who today arrived at San Diego, Cal., has taken steps thoroughly to investigate the explosion on the gunboat Bennington. This telegram was received from him late this afternoon at the navy department:

"Preliminary to a court of inquiry I have appointed Lieutenant Commanders Frank W. Bartlett, Alexander S. Halstead and Roscoe C. Moody to collate and arrange all evidence so far obtained concerning the boiler explosion on the Bennington."

Rear Admiral Goodrich has informed the department that he desires to have the services of officers of high rank and experience on the court of inquiry. In accordance with the request, the navy department has ordered Commodore H. N. Stevenson, retired, to proceed from the Mare Island navy yard to San Diego to serve as the president of the court. It is not known here who will be the remaining two members of the board, but as Capt. F. I. Drake, who is now superintending the floating of the Bennington, and Capt. Moore of the cruiser Chicago, are officers of level judgment and great experience, it is thought likely that they will be selected.

HOCH MUST DIE TODAY

Gov. Deneen Refuses to Interfere in Favor of Noted Wife Poisoner.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 27.—Regarding the charge against Johann Hoch, who is to be hanged tomorrow, it was ascertained at the governor's office today that the reasons which induced the governor to refrain from interfering were the following:

That Hoch was first sentenced to be hanged on June 21; that through his counsel he requested a reprieve in order to be able to present his case to the supreme court in the June term. Gov. Deneen granted a reprieve of five and one-half weeks in order to give him ample time.

The supreme court has decided against the contention raised by counsel for Hoch that a former wife had no right to testify. It is regretted that Hoch's friends did not have an opportunity to present his case to the supreme court, but it was felt by the governor that he had granted an ample extension of time; that the crime was an atrocious one, and that the trial had been fairly conducted, no complaint having been lodged with him regarding its conduct.

Under all the circumstances the governor felt that he could not do otherwise than as he has done without making a precedent which would produce harmful results hereafter, and so felt constrained to let the law take its course.

TWENTY-THREE ARE KILLED

Disastrous Wreck on Electric Road Near Liverpool, England. One Car Smashed.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LIVERPOOL, July 27.—An electric express train on the Lancashire & Yorkshire railroad, bound from Liverpool to Southport, collided this evening with an empty stationary train at the Hall Road station, causing the death of 23 persons and the injury of many.

The first car of the express, which was crowded, was smashed to pieces, and only six of its occupants escaped. The road was recently given an electric equipment.

TWENTY-FIVE INJURED.

Cleveland Trolley Cars in Disastrous Collision Owing to Failure of Brakes.

CLEVELAND, O., July 27.—Because air-brakes and lever both refused to work an Euclid avenue car coming from the parks late to night crashed into a second car in front, which had slowed up at the crossing of Olive street and Euclid avenue. Twenty-five persons were injured. The motorman of the second car, Bert Gordon, was badly injured and was taken to the hospital.

The list of injured, so far as obtained, is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. George Petzinger, Mrs. Lewis Petzinger and daughter Ruth, all of No. 6 Beacon street; Miss Minnie E. Fhrerich, No. 230 Woodland avenue; Alice Klein, Mark Klein, Mrs. J. B. Greulich and daughter Esther, Rex Allen, Wellington, O.; Mary Bendict, Wellington, O.; Mrs. B. W. Moore, Cleveland, taken from car unconscious and may die; Mrs. Martha Bergman and daughter Alice, A. S. Ledyard, Wellington, O.; Motorman Gordon, fractured leg.

Many passengers from Wellington sustained only slight injuries and hurried to the depot to take the train. Their names were not learned. Both cars were of the largest type and were loaded with passengers to the fullest capacity.

MINIATURE FURNACE CLOSED.

One of the Smallest in the World Will Operate No More in Shenango Valley.

SHARON, PA., July 27.—(Special.)—The North Side blast furnace at Sharpsville, which was built at a cost of about $75,000, has been closed down, and will probably be sold or leased. This is said to be one of the smallest blast furnaces in the world, being 37 feet high and 7 feet in diameter across the bosh.

The plant was built for smelting fine ore, hundreds of tons of which accumulate yearly at the furnaces in the valleys. The ore dust is said to contain about 40 per cent iron ore.

MESSAGE CAUSES DEATH.

Woman Overhears False Report by Telephone and Dies Almost Instantly.

FINDLAY, O., July 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Martin L. Jaqua died at her home near Findlay and her death was due to a conversation which she chanced to hear over a telephone. Intending to use the telephone, she placed the receiver to her ear and heard two neighbors talking. Catching the name of her sister, she listened, and a moment later learned that the sister had died suddenly.

She fell unconscious to the floor and never recovered, lying ill for four weeks, finally succumbing today.

M'AFEE GIVEN NEW HONORS

Gov. Pennypacker Places Him at Head of the State Department.

PLACE FOR BERKEY

He Is Given Banking Commissionership Made Vacant by the Promotion.

CHANGES OCCUR AT ONCE

Robert McAfee of Allegheny was yesterday appointed secretary of the commonwealth by Gov. S. W. Pennypacker. He will be succeeded as banking commissioner by John A. Berkey of Somerset. The vacancy in the state department was caused by the death of Frank M. Fuller of Uniontown.

The promotion of Mr. McAfee came without the solicitation of himself or friends. The governor has long considered him one of his most valued advisers and efficient department heads. Opportunity to show his appreciation of the services of Mr. McAfee was afforded when the vacancy in the office of secretary of the commonwealth occurred.

The appointment was well received in this county. Mr. McAfee has long been prominent in business and politics and there was general gratification over his receiving the best office in the gift of Gov. Pennypacker. When the new secretary came home from Harrisburg last evening he was kept busy receiving the congratulations of those of his friends who had heard of his coming.

Has Taken Charge.

Mr. McAfee is not given to talking for publication. Last evening he simply said he greatly appreciated the kindliness shown by the governor and would endeavor to give a good administration. He took the oath of office before leaving Harrisburg and transacted some departmental business. He will not make any changes in the office force.

Mr. Berkey will become head of the banking department at once. He will no doubt retain all of the present force. As banking commissioner, Mr. McAfee has gained the reputation of being the first real head of the department. He has given the business his close personal attention and is familiar with every detail of the work. As secretary of the commonwealth he will do the same thing. In addition to being head of the state department, Mr. McAfee will serve on the following boards: Pardons, sinking fund commissioners, revenue commissioners and property.

Life Has Been Busy.

Mr. McAfee was born in county Antrim, Ireland, February 28, 1840. He was educated in the common schools of his country. When 20 years old Mr. McAfee came to America, settling in Allegheny. His first employment was with the firm of Oliver Bros. & Phillips. For a number of years he was manager of the lower mills, retaining the position until the plant was sold to the Schoen Pressed Steel Car Company.

In 1881 Mr. McAfee was elected a member of select council from the Eleventh ward of Allegheny. He held the seat for 12 years. In 1895 he was chosen head of the North Side department of public works. The great improvements made in Allegheny were all during his administration. Refusing to indorse the policy of the government during the "ripper" days of 1903, he retired from office.

Mr. McAfee was appointed commissioner of banking by Gov. Pennypacker on April 13, 1903. He so well administered the affairs of the department, his promotion of yesterday was the result.

New Banking Commissioner.

John A. Berkey is a native of Jefferson township, Somerset county, and is 44 years old. He was a school teacher after completing a common school course. In 1884 he graduated from the California State Normal school and in 1888 was admitted to the Somerset county bar.

Along with his legal practice Mr. Berkey has invested in many business enterprises, notably in the breweries at Windber and at Meyersdale. He is interested in several hotel properties in that county and owns other real estate. He served as district attorney two terms, from 1892 to 1898. He was a candidate for congress in 1902, but was defeated for the district nomination by Congressman Allen F. Cooper. Mr. Berkey is an active politician, and with Samuel A. Kendall controls Republican politics in Somerset county.

The appointment of Mr. Berkey will take him out of the running for congress. He has been an aspirant for the seat held by Congressman Allen F. Cooper of Uniontown. This gives Somerset two cabinet officers, as N. B. Critchfield, secretary of agriculture, comes from that county.

SENATORS ARE PLEASED.

Appointment of McAfee and Berkey Is Agreeable to Both Penrose and Knox.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—(Special.)—The appointments made today by Gov. Pennypacker were agreed on at the recent conference attended by Senators Penrose and Knox. The elevation of Mr. McAfee was not only desired by the governor, but was entirely agreeable to Penrose, Knox and the Republican leaders of Allegheny county.

Mr. Penrose personally urged the appointment as banking commissioner of Mr. Berkey, who had the indorsement of the Republican leaders of his congressional district, Somerset and Greene counties, and was entirely satisfactory to Cambria, Blair, Fayette and Westmoreland counties. The appointments are regarded as strictly in accord with the wishes of the state organization, and are in harmony with the three executive appointments made since March 4, by President Roosevelt, viz.: Jerome Quay and Moorhead of Pittsburgh, and Chase of Clearfield, who were given places at the request of Senator Penrose.

NEW SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH

THE HON. ROBERT McAFEE.

JAPAN'S ENVOYS SEE PRESIDENT

Mr. Roosevelt Talks With the Peace Delegates on Terms to Be Made.

ALL MOUTHS ARE SEALED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 27.—President Roosevelt entertained at luncheon today Baron Jutaro Komura, minister of foreign affairs, and Kogora Takahira, minister to the United States, the Japanese envoys to the Washington peace conference. Subsequently he had a long interview with them at which all phases of the approaching negotiations were considered. The president knew Baron Komura several years ago as a fellow graduate of Harvard college.

Baron Komura and Minister Takahira arrived here on a Long Island railroad train, both entrances to which were guarded by railroad porters. Baron Komura bowed gravely to the newspaper men who made themselves known, but smilingly declined to talk. They remained with the president over two hours.

Minister Takahira said Baron Komura had desired to pay his respects to President Roosevelt and, on behalf of the emperor, thank him for his efforts to bring about peace in the far east. The mission had been accomplished. Minister Takahira said further it would not be proper for him to give out the nature of the discussion with the president.

While Minister Takahira was chatting with the newspaper men Baron Komura stood smiling on the platform of his car. A photographer asked the minister to pose for an instant with Baron Komura, but the diplomat shook his head emphatically and both he and the baron entered the car precipitately. The door was locked after them and the train pulled out.

CHERBOURG, July 27.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse with M. Witte and his party on board sailed for New York from here today.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Arrangements were completed here today for conveying the peace envoys of Russia and Japan from New York to Oyster Bay, where they will be received by the president and from there go to Portsmouth, N. H. The Russian plenipotentiaries and suite will embark on the cruiser Chattanooga, commanded by Capt. Sharp, New York city. On the morning of August 5, the Japanese plenipotentiaries embarking at the same point on the cruiser Tacoma, commanded by Commander R. F. Nicholson, an hour later, arriving at Oyster Bay within half an hour of one another.

After the luncheon to be given by the president on the Mayflower is over and the president has departed, the Japanese plenipotentiaries will embark on the Dolphin, the Russian plenipotentiaries and suite remaining on the Mayflower, when they will proceed to Portsmouth, convoyed by the cruiser Galveston, which will arrive off Oyster Bay on the evening of August 4. Portsmouth will be reached on the morning of August 7, where the plenipotentiaries will be received by the admiral commanding the Portsmouth navy yard within which the negotiations for peace are to be conducted.

CHILDREN NOT IN WANT, SAYS MRS. JOHN C. KRIES

Story That Grandchildren Are Dependents Upon Charity by Vote of Pittsburgh Family Is Denied.

Voted by the ballot of rich relatives to become dependents of charity is the fate of the four grandchildren of a Pittsburgh millionaire in Cincinnati, according to a story told in a special telegram to The Gazette from that city last night.

The children are said to be those of Mrs. Robert E. Kollicker, the daughter of John C. Kries, a wealthy soap manufacturer of Merrimac street, this city. According to Cincinnati reports, Mrs. Kollicker has been compelled to seek employment as a domestic, while her four children have found refuge in the Children's hospital in Mt. Auburn, a suburb of Cincinnati. Her appeals to her father are said to have been answered as follows: "I can do nothing for the Kollicker children. I put the matter to a vote of my family, and the 'noes' have it."

Mrs. Kries was seen last night and stated that the family had no interest in the stories coming out of Cincinnati. "Mrs. Kollicker has sufficient means to properly provide for her children," she said, "and the children are not in want. These reports are being circulated by her to injure us and there is no ground or reason for her want."

BLIZZARD WILL NOT ABATE.

The United States District Attorney Says His Is in the Race Against Senator Stephen B. Elkins.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., July 27.—Secretary of State Charles W. Swisher arrived in this city at noon and met the Republican leaders of the county. He told them of his conference with Judge Blizzard at Parkersburg last night at which he asked the judge to publicly announce himself out of the race against Senator Elkins. It is authoritatively given out that the judge absolutely declined and that he insisted he would be in the race to the last moment.

Charles Caldwell has been asked to persuade Judge Blizzard to withdraw. Mr. Swisher intimated that he is now Elkins' confidential man.

ASK A RECEIVER FOR EQUITABLE SOCIETY

Suit of Forty Policy-Holders Begins in the United States Circuit Court.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 27.—Suit was begun today in the United States circuit court for the Southern New York district to throw the entire $421,000,000 assets of the Equitable Life Assurance society into the hands of receivers.

More than 40 policy-holders in the Equitable, representing a dozen different states, are complainants in the suit, which is based in part on the allegation that the society has no funds with which to meet its enormous losses, and is insolvent. In the complaint are incorporated many citations from the Frick and Hendricks reports published some months ago.

The directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society today elected George F. Vletor of this city, and Ernest B. Kruttschnitt of New Orleans, to the board. The office of chairman was abolished.

The committee on pensions reported, and in almost every instance its recommendations were adopted. A number of pensions will be discontinued entirely, and others reduced to 50 per cent of salaries received by officials or employes at the time of the severance of their connections. It developed today that in addition to the pension of $25,000 a year to the widow of Henry B. Hyde, there was voted at the same time a pension of $18,000 to Mrs. James W. Alexander, wife of the former president, to take effect on the death of Mr. Alexander. These two items will be submitted to the Equitable special counsel. The Equitable society's income for the first six months of 1905 was $38,786,138, an increase of $2,356,810 over the corresponding six months of last year, according to a statement submitted to the board of directors yesterday.

WINDOW GLASS MEETING RESULTS IN DISAGREEMENT

Operators Demand Control of Apprenticeship Question and Lockout May Ensue.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 27.—The smouldering embers of war, which have been threatening to break out for some months between the window glass manufacturers and their employes, has almost reached the stage of a declaration of hostilities tonight. The wage committees of the window glass manufacturers and the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers are deadlocked and a motion is up now for adjournment sine die.

The trouble is over the uncompromising attitude of the manufacturers, who have demanded the removal of the shop rules of the blowers for the closing of factories in the summer and a reduction of 10 per cent in wages, together with insistance that they should have control over the rules governing and naming apprentices. The counter-proposition from the blowers was a two months' summer vacation instead of four months and the removal of the production limit on the blowers. They refused to consider changes in the apprenticeship control. The argument, which lasted six hours, ended with the withdrawal of the blowers. Neither side will consider the wage controversy until a settlement is made on the apprenticeship issue, which, apparently, is deadlocked.

The committee will meet separately before going into conference again, and both sides say that another joint meeting is improbable and that an open fight may result.

At Haddon hall there is a gathering of members of the pressed and blown glass manufacturers who are to enter into the wage conference tomorrow. Those who arrived tonight are: President W. A. D. Dalzell of Moundsville, W. Va.; W. F. Dixon, John B. Blair, George Ruehl, Pittsburgh. They will confer with the bottle blowers, who are to start their annual conference next week over wages and settling on a tariff for new bottles.

PITTSBURGHERS SING IN OPENING CONCERT

CUMBERLAND, MD., July 27.—(Special.)—The Allegheny Grove Chautauqua, managed by General Secretary W. L. Radcliffe of the Cumberland Young Men's Christian association, opened for a season of 15 days this afternoon with a concert by the Pittsburgh Festival orchestra. Tonight the oratorio "Elijah" was given with a chorus of over 250 voices under the leadership of Tali Esen Morgan, the soloists being Miss Clark and Daniel Beddoe of Pittsburgh.

FEVER CASES REACH 200

Marine hospital service. This is to be required in order that each applicant may be examined, the hospital service not desiring to send into the detention camps persons who are likely to become ill, thereby establishing new centers of infection.

It is next to impossible to get into Mississippi, Alabama, Texas or Louisiana towns without detention. Quarantines are made constantly more rigid since the board of health began to make public the number of cases and deaths. Mississippi is sending her inspectors right into New Orleans. Every passenger is examined and the tickets of through passengers are scrutinized to prevent anyone from attempting to get into the state by surreptitious means.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad guards appear at the state line, the doors of the cars are locked and there is no chance given a passenger to leave the train until the line is reached. No attempt is made by passengers except those bound through, to go out over either the Texas & Pacific or the Southern Pacific railroads.

Efforts have been made by men of influence on the gulf coast and in New Orleans, to induce Gov. Vardaman of Mississippi to relax the quarantine regulations so far as communication between summer resorts on the Mississippi sound and New Orleans is concerned. The governor, however, answered that it would be preferable to suspend business throughout the state for 30 days than that one case of yellow fever should be permitted to get into the state.

WONDERS OF WIRELESS

United States Naval System Picked Up Messages 1,100 Miles at Sea.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Lieut. Kaiser, who had charge of the wireless apparatus on board the cruiser Brooklyn on the trip to France and return, has made a report to Rear Admiral Massey, chief of the bureau of equipment, on the tests which were made to determine at what distances wireless messages may be received aboard ship from shore stations.

The lieutenant reported that the longest distance at which wireless messages were read during the daytime was 840 sea miles, and at night 1,100 sea miles, while a wireless signal was heard at a distance of 1,730 sea miles. The message received at a distance of 1,100 miles could doubtless have been heard at a still greater distance.

MORE SERIOUS CHARGES IN AGRICULTURAL BUREAU

Scientist Moore's Wife Held Stock in Nitro-Culture Company Which the Government Department Was Advertising Freely.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Another scandal was disclosed in the department of agriculture today. Representatives of the National Stockman and Farmer of Pittsburgh, Pa., today made to Assistant Secretary Hays, charges that George T. Moore, the scientist in charge of the laboratory of plant physiology of the bureau of plant industry has been guilty of irregularities in connection with the exploitation of "nitro-culture."

This is a bacteriological material which Mr. Moore discovered and which it was claimed when "vaccinated" into all poor soil would make it rich. Mr. Hays was informed that while Mr. Moore was following the departmental policy of exploiting the new discovery his wife held a block of stock in the private company. Mr. Moore's invention caused the organization of the West Chester Company, which advertised nitro-culture extensively, setting forth that at the rate of $2 an acre barren land would be made wonderfully productive.

The department for a time sent out cultures to farmers who wrote for them, but finally the supply became exhausted. Applicants were then told that the supply of cultures at the department's disposal had given out and were advised to apply to the West Chester Company.

When today confronted by the fact that the conduct of affairs had been discovered, Mr. Moore admitted not only the shipments of nitro-culture material to the company, but that his wife held a block of stock in the concern. Mr. Moore is undoubtedly one of the best scientists in the department. He discovered the way to purify water by the use of copperas.

NOTORIOUS NEGRESS IS WORRYING LONG BRANCH

Aristocratic Summer Resort Shudders at Presence of Hannah Elias.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ELBERON, N. J., July 27.—"She's here."

"Why, who?"

Half a minute's whispering followed between two women, and then a series of little shrieks.

"Oh, dear me, how horrid," exclaimed one.

Whoever tries to mislead the public with the idea that the horse show is attracting the entire attention of Long Branch is guilty of an unpardonable error. Heretofore, when the horse show came this way it was a sufficiently big event to hold the gaze of an admiring multitude. But everything is breaking records, or changing places, or doing something. In the excitement brought about by the presence of Mrs. Hannah Elias at this place the horse show is seriously threatened with being moved off the map.

Mrs. Elias, of Platt fame, was seen for the first time the other day on Bath avenue. While nobody seems to know anything about her, it seems likely that she is again at the cottage Van Note. Real estate men are indignant, and one points the finger of suspicion at the other, but the truth will perhaps not be known, as it is openly stated that if the man is found he will be driven out of business here.

No one seems to know just when Mrs. Elias arrived here. The tradesmen did not even know that she was here, because the boycott agreement which they instituted last season has never been broken. Neighbors will only say that she is to be seen daily on the drives of no importance, or walking on Bath avenue.

RUNAWAY CARS BLOCK TRAFFIC

Dash Through Pittsburgh and Across Junction Bridge to Herr's Island, Where They Are Wrecked.

Breaking loose from a train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near the Skunk Hollow tunnel at Schenley park yesterday afternoon, three empty box cars and a caboose dashed down the grade, through the city and across the Junction bridge. Near the Walker soap factory at Herr's island, they were wrecked by a shifting engine and blocked all traffic until this morning.

The shifting engine was backing along the Pittsburgh & Western tracks in the Willow Grove yards when the crew saw the runaway cars dashing across the island. They backed their engine up to the bridge and started ahead again as the cars approached, hoping to stop them gently, but the cars hit the engine with such force as to buckle and dash to pieces against the engine and the iron work of the bridge, breaking one of the iron supports of the bridge and blocking both tracks.

The Baltimore & Ohio wrecker was unable to reach the wreck, owing to the many trains blocked by the cars, and the shifting engine was set to work to clear away the wreckage by dumping the cars into the river. No person was injured.

WABASH HAS TO KEEP PROMISES

President F. A. Delano Says Pittsburgh Freight Facilities Must Have Attention.

LINE SOUTH CAN COME LATER

"Our immediate work will be the giving of Pittsburgh what has been promised—an outlet for the delayed tonnage."

This was the nutshell expression of Frederic A. Delano, first vice president of the Wabash railroad and president of the Wabash lines east of Toledo, last night at the Hotel Schenley. He said the purpose of all work to be done this year will be to carry to completion the freight houses and connecting lines that will give immediate Pittsburgh shippers the outlet that has been looked for from the time the Wabash line into Pittsburgh was begun. Mr. Delano continued:

We want to close up the small gaps that remain open and keep the Wabash from handling the immense tonnage that is assured the moment those gaps are closed. The most important of these are the freight houses downtown and on the South Side and the two lines to connect the Wabash system with the Carnegie and Clairton steel mills. The outlook is that all of these will be completed and in operation before the snow flies. They are important, not only for the Wabash system, but also for the Pittsburgh shippers.

The settlement of the South Side matters with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad through the injunction that was given us today will insure the rapid progress of our work on the South Side elevated line and warehouses. The steel is ready and we expect to have the line built within about two months. We will also carry forward as rapidly as possible the double-tracking of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal railway, but the immediate Pittsburgh matters must be attended to first of all.

The Duquesne way line will also receive attention, but there will not likely be anything done toward the Allegheny freight terminals or line until we can come to a better understanding with the war department on the height required for the bridge over the Allegheny river. The Pittsburgh end might be made serviceable at 70 feet, but such a bridge is out of the question for Allegheny. We are doing absolutely nothing in Allegheny and purchasing no property until we know whether we can enter at this or that point.

Upon the line south from Pittsburgh for a connection with the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh we shall do little or nothing this summer or fall. The Little Kanawha syndicate's sale of the former proposed line through Greene county will not hinder our progress toward the eastern seaboard.

When it is understood that we are devoting our entire attention just now to securing for Pittsburgh what was promised in the way of a freight outlet, I think it will be understood that we are not zealous about having the proposed Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad bonds floated. We shall make good and then there will be bidders enough for any bonds the Wabash or its affiliated lines may have to offer. The matter of these bonds being refused, however, was exaggerated.

Mr. Delano said that he has in contemplation no further changes in the official personnel at Pittsburgh.

GIRL FIERCELY FIGHTS HER FATHER'S CAPTORS

Arrest of Sharpsburg Italian Is Attended by Many Incidents of Exciting Nature.

The arrest yesterday of Frank Buechierri, the Italian grocer of Sharpsburg who attempted to shoot Officer William Muckle on the evening of July 18, and who later jumped his bail of $500, caused great excitement in the Sharpsburg Italian quarter yesterday. Katie Buechierri, daughter of the prisoner, created a scene on Main street by attacking the man who had arrested her father in Frankstown avenue, East End, where he had been in hiding, and accused Louis De Lucca, the brother of Chris De Lucca, her father's bondsman, with having used her name in order to entice her father that he might be arrested. A struggle occurred, and the girl alleges that De Lucca struck her. Later she entered suit before Justice J. W. Hughes of West Elizabeth, charging him with assault and battery.

Katie is said to have been the original cause of her father's difficulties, as it was his objection to the attentions paid to her by Charles Ross, an Italian barber, which is said to have caused him to follow the couple about the borough on June 17, threatening to shoot his daughter. When Officers William Muckle and George Aschman arrested the man he snapped a loaded revolver at Officer Muckle, and but for a defective cartridge would probably have killed him.

During his absence the cause of his anger and all of his troubles, Charles Ross, married another sweetheart. Katie is making redress and has made information against Ross before Justice J. W. Hughes.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 27.—(Special.)—All the work of examining witnesses by the Hanna investigating committee has been completed and the committee is now compiling a statement of the bank balances and cash on hand for each month of the late city treasurer's term.

It has been shown that at the end of April, 1902, the first month of Hanna's second term, there was a shortage of $503.91, caused by the fact that some mislaid checks for taxes had not been included in the auditor's report. It cannot yet be told when the committee will submit the report. There are about 100,000 words of testimony to be transcribed.

NEW ARMOR PLATE TESTS IMPORTANT

Midvale Product Passes Highest Mark Ever Made at Indian Head.

WILL SAVE MANY MILLIONS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.

The full significance of the successful test of Midvale armor at the Indian Head proving grounds yesterday is not yet appreciated by the public, though it is fully understood by the navy department. It means that if the competition for armor contracts that has been inaugurated continues there will be a saving of millions of dollars to the government in the building of the navy that is contemplated by the administration. It probably means that unless the courts declare the Midvale company's process for the manufacture of armor plates is an infringement of the Harvey patents, other steel manufacturers will enter the field and will provide a capacity by which ships may be quickly armored in the event of this country becoming involved in war.

Test Broke All Records.

It was learned today from officials of the department that not only was it a good test but it was one of the very best that has ever taken place at Indian Head.

New specifications have been adopted by the navy department by which every test plate, beginning with the contracts let last January, must be fired at with the steel capped projectiles alone and must withstand them. Also the velocity of the shot is to be increased about 2 per cent and other conditions are to be imposed that will make it a great deal more difficult for plates to pass the government requirements. It was stated today by an official of the department that if the Midvale plate tested yesterday had been subjected to the test under the new regulations it would have passed easily.

Another feature of the armor tests yesterday was that this group is the most difficult of the entire lot of 6,000 tons which the company has contracted to furnish. The plates contained in it are all curved, and the hardest to make in accordance with the specifications. Although the company under its contract was not obliged to begin deliveries until August 15, it had some of these plates ready as early as May, but it did not wish to submit to an official test until certain that it would be successful. As it is the company has begun deliveries three weeks ahead of time, which is more than the navy department expected it would do.

Will Save Many Millions.

The Carnegie and Bethlehem Steel Companies were equally surprised. They did not expect any such result, as was indicated by the fact that when they bid on the last lot of armor last winter they did not think it worth while to reduce their price to meet the competition of Midvale.

The bids on armor submitted by the Carnegie and Bethlehem Steel Companies stipulate that the royalty of $22 a ton on Class A, or Krupp armor, and of $11 20 a ton on Class B, or Harveyized armor, shall be paid by the government and shall be in excess of the price bid by these companies. In the last two lettings of armor contracts the Carnegie and Bethlehem bids were $420 a ton for Class A, and $400 a ton for Class B and Class C armor. The Midvale company bid $398 a ton for Class A, and $393 for Class B, and $386 for Class C armor, making a difference between the highest and lowest of $55 20 a ton on Class A, $18 20 on Class B, and $32 on Class C. The Midvale company said nothing about royalties, and therefore on all armor ordered from them the government saves the amount a ton stated above. The last letting was for 8,000 tons, and the preceding for 16,000 tons, so that it will be seen that the reduction of price means a vast sum of money to the government.

L. W. STRAYER.

FIREBUGS ARE SUSPECTED.

Believed They Are Responsible for Blazes in Two Buildings.

A quartet of fires occurred in the city or nearby yesterday and incendiarism is suspected in at least two instances. The coal tipple, power house and several small sheds of the Pittsburgh Coal company's mine at Morgan, two miles from Bridgeville, was damaged to the extent of $5,000. There are reasons for thinking it was set on fire by those who are resentful because the mine has not been operated for two years. Fire was discovered at 7:10 o'clock in a stable in the rear of the Home for Babies, Center avenue. There has been no one around the stable for some time. Recently the managers of the home stated they would keep a couple of cows in the stable to furnish milk for the babies. Some of the neighbors were outspoken against this and it was said yesterday that they might have burned down the stable to prevent what they considered a nuisance.

Crossed electric wires set fire to the woodwork above the office of the Commercial hotel, Sixth street, about 9 o'clock and caused considerable excitement. A still alarm was sent in and chemical company No. 1 extinguished the flames with little damage. A small fire, said to have started from a cigar, occurred at the home of Peter Kopsay, 2905 Mulberry alley. It is said one of the boarders was smoking in bed and threw his cigar among some waste paper. The damage was slight.

SEES WAGON AND FAINTS.

Woman Becomes Hysterical at Sight of Police Patrol.

A dramatic scene followed an attempt to convey Georgiana Clark, alias Robinson of Detroit, from Central station to the jail in a patrol wagon yesterday afternoon, upon her commitment on two charges of larceny.

The woman became hysterical upon sight of the patrol wagon and after screaming and becoming violent, she fainted and fell to the sidewalk. She was removed to the Homeopathic hospital, where Detective Charles Aymer was sent to guard her. She did not recover consciousness for two hours, after which she was taken to the jail. She was accused of the larceny of $115 worth of dry goods from a Pittsburgh and an Allegheny store. The woman confessed her guilt at the hearing and was held in default of $500 bail.

Boy in Trouble Over Bicycle.

James McIntyre, aged 13, of Beltler street, was arrested yesterday as he was passing along Shakespeare street on a bicycle which it is alleged he had stolen. E. W. Coll, who says he is the owner of the machine, says it was stolen from in front a drug store on Tuesday last at Park and Shetland avenues.

TUBE CITY'S GARBAGE TO BE REMOVED BY MAYOR

McKeesport's Executive Insists the Furnace Shall Be Repaired and Put in Operation—Jolt for Board of Health.

Mayor Falkenstein of McKeesport announced yesterday he would assume control of the removal of city garbage and a full investigation into the present conditions would be made by him personally. He also stated he would have the garbage furnace repaired and operated for 30 days by experts, relieving the board of health of any further connection with it.

"If there is anything rotten, outside of the garbage itself, I intend to find it. If there is nothing but garbage, I intend to burn it, and I am satisfied that we can do it in the new furnace after the necessary repairs have been made."

The mayor visited the garbage furnace with other city officials yesterday. He satisfied himself the furnace had been injured through mismanagement and it would cost but little to put it in good working order. Immediately after the inspection the mayor made arrangements with J. H. Swindell of the American Foundry and Machine Company, Pittsburgh, to visit the furnace later in the day and furnish him with a complete estimate on the cost of repairing the damage. Mayor Falkenstein has the promise of members of council that they will approve any bills he may contract in connection with the test.

The board of health learned that the mayor was to pay a visit to the furnace and a force of men was put to work cleaning up the place. About 70 cans of garbage that had been stored there for some time were hastily removed, but the evidence of their presence was still there. It is claimed the odors coming from the furnace are due to the stored garbage, and not to any defect in the construction of the furnace.

City Engineer T. W. White, who also visited the furnace, declared it should never have been shut down for more than a few hours for repairs, and that it was in such shape that garbage could be burned in it in less than 24 hours.

"The furnace was wrecked by about 4,000 degrees of heat, something that no furnace in the country will stand," said Mr. White.

The residents of the Eleventh ward yesterday retained an attorney for the purpose of instituting proceedings against the board of health, restraining them from putting a garbage car on a siding in the ward. A temporary organization was formed and funds were raised to defray the legal expenses.

The board of health met last evening and adopted a resolution asking Mayor Falkenstein to make good his alleged assertion—"The new furnace, I am satisfied, could be remodeled and successfully made to do the work if the right people had charge of it." The resolution declared the mayor's reported statements reflected upon the honor, integrity and competence of the board, and that in order that the true situation with reference to the furnace may be learned, proposed:

That the mayor select a practical furnace man, the board of health a second and these two a third; that the three furnace men make a careful examination of the furnace and report on the following points: Whether the furnace as originally built was substantially made and adequate for McKeesport's needs; whether the furnace in its present condition can be repaired and remodeled so as to render it fit to perform its work; what the cost of such repairs and changes would be.

William H. Coleman, who introduced the resolution, read a statement in which he insisted the board had done the best possible under existing conditions and mentioned that the enmity of other city officials had been incurred. He said the board rested under a stigma which should be removed and urged the public to make a complete investigation.

LOCATION OF SCHENLEY STREETS IS NOW SEEN

Repaving of Fifth Avenue Makes Trouble Because of New Grades for Sidewalks.

The work of paving gangs in Fifth avenue in front of the Hotel Schenley this week has called the attention of the general public to the exact locations of the streets to be put through Schenley farm. Incidentally it has aroused the ire of some property owners and residents in the vicinity, who see the long stretch of promenade walk being torn up to make a place for the curbs and learn that they will have to revise the grade of their pavements to make them conform in appearance with the work. Although it is generally supposed that the Schenley Farms Company is doing the work, this is not the case, as the contract for the repaving of Fifth avenue from Boquet street to Bellefield avenue was awarded a short time ago by the department of public works to the Blake Sheet Asphalt company of Cincinnati, which is now in the midst of the work.

The tearing up of the old curb on the north side of Fifth avenue reveals the fact that there will be six streets to run out from Schenley farm to the avenue between Boquet street and Bellefield avenue. The first of these is Croghan street, which has been plotted for years, and will intersect the avenue just west of the First United Presbyterian church. The second street will hit the avenue just west of the Hotel Schenley; the third, St. Pierre street, will be a continuation of Grant boulevard. The fourth street comes out at a point about midway of Casey's row of stone houses, the fifth at the east end of the row, opposite the Keeley institute, and the sixth two doors west of Bellefield avenue.

When the city decided to repave Fifth avenue at this point the Schenley Farms Company was asked to put in the return curbs for its cross streets in order that the pavement would not have to be torn up again next year when the six streets are completed out to the avenue. The company agreed to do this and as a result the north side pavement is now badly torn up to allow for the new curbs. These are being set 15 inches high, which makes the pavement almost impassable now. In a few days the city will have filled up the bed of the street and between the return curbs to a depth of nine inches with gravel, concrete and sheet asphalt. This will leave a drop of only six inches, which is the customary curb line. This is objected to by some property owners, who think the city might have waited to put in the curbs until the Schenley streets were ready. The objection of others is because some of the pavements in front of the houses will be at least two inches below the new curb line. This will necessitate the relaying of these pavements to make a handsome street, and as some of them are asphalt the job will be costly.

The Moran-Phelan Contracting Company, which is doing the grading on the Schenley farm, now has over 200 men working. Two steam shovels are rapidly reducing the grades near Fifth avenue and in the corner back of the blind asylum. A third steam shovel will arrive from Marion, O., this week and will be put to work near Center avenue cutting down the hill. There are two scraper gangs and two big sewer gangs which have completed 24 and 30-inch sewers along six streets and are now laying pipe along Grant boulevard. The work thus far done near the avenue shows that the fill from Fifth avenue back north to the ledge that has been shelved off runs from 8 to 15 feet. When completed the entire frontage along Fifth avenue will be a little higher than the pavement to make a fine terrace.

PRESIDENT COREY COMING.

Steel Corporation President to Hold Conference With Subordinates Today.

President W. E. Corey of the United States Steel Corporation, who arrives in the city this morning, will meet with the presidents and department heads of the subsidiary companies of the corporation today, and hear reports on the work in the various branches of the industry. All the mills except those operating on wire, sheets and tin plates are busy and have sufficient orders booked at present to keep them in operation the balance of the year. Several of the big railroads are in the market for thousands of new cars, and there is every reason to believe that Mr. Corey will prepare the way for handling the business of what promises to be an exceptionally prosperous fall.

Transfer Disputed Funds.

The committee on public safety of Allegheny councils last night recommended favorably a resolution transferring $110 from the public safety general office fund to the department of public works general office fund, to meet half the expense of repairs to the front office. This is the amount Director E. J. McIlvaine and City Controller Brown had some hot words about at the meeting of the committee on finance recently. Controller Brown having refused to issue a warrant for the amount without authority from councils.

Moore Is Investigating.

Controller John B. Larkin yesterday asked Harry Moore, director of the department of public safety, to investigate the report fees are collected in the police courts and not turned into the city treasury. The director is making the investigation.

Friends Boom Cochrane.

Friends of Robert K. Cochrane, member of Allegheny common council from the Sixth ward, are talking of him as a Republican candidate for controller. There has been no announcement from Mr. Cochrane.

SAY PIPE LINE TALE HAS THE RING OF "PIPE"

Local Authorities Believe Transcontinental Oil Subway a Pleasant Dream.

That the "enormous" pipe line whose purpose will be to convey oil from the Indian territory and Kansas to Port Arthur on the Gulf of Mexico will for some time continue to be built on paper is the opinion of men who ordinarily would be consulted on such projects.

After inquiring whether Port Arthur, Manchuria or Port Arthur, U. S. A., was the proposed terminal, a man acquainted with the oil situation in the west stated yesterday that such report had been current for several months in the Kansas fields, and that it was the wish that fathered the thought of the Kansas independent producers who are sweltering under the blow dealt them by the supreme court of that state in the independent refinery case.

Officials of the National Tube Company, which virtually controls the pipe and tube trade of the world, stated yesterday that they found much relief in these gentle zephyrs which were being wafted from Kansas, but as far as there being a serious aspect to the rumor there was little foundation for hope.

"If such a pipe line were contemplated," it was said, "surely we would have been asked for quotations, at least. No one from that field has ever asked for prices from us on such a project, and we feel satisfied that if there was any basis of truth for such a report some figures would have been requested before capital was subscribed to begin work."

FORM ASSOCIATION TO GET GOOD WATER SUPPLY

Residents of the Twentieth Ward Hold Open-Air Meeting and Denounce Conditions.

At an open air meeting of residents of the Twentieth ward, held on the lawn in front of the residence of Dr. W. R. Hamilton, Friendship and Winebiddle avenues, last evening, Director of Public Works Bigelow was severely censured because of the poor water supply in the ward, especially in the Friendship park and Baumgrove districts. Charles W. Houston was elected chairman and Frank G. Conneley secretary of the meeting.

Dr. Hamilton stated in a few words the reason for calling the meeting and what is wanted by the property owners and residents.

Common Councilman G. W. Hammer of the ward stated that he has to ring a bell to shut off all spigots downstairs when he wants to take a bath. He says because of the water he has had trouble with his tenants and his property has depreciated $30,000. He referred to the city spending $35,000 to build a race track in Schenley park for the few men who have fast horses, while the Twentieth ward is denied water for which the property owners are paying. Others who denounced the conditions in the ward were David Kirk, James W. Houston, P. W. Seibert, E. A. Kern and S. B. Hubely.

A petition to be presented to Director Bigelow was signed by 55 property owners last night.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock next Thursday evening on the lawn at Dr. Hamilton's residence.

Winning Tickets Are Drawn for Orphans' Picnic Prizes.

Drawings of the winning numbers for the automobile, couch, paintings and gold watch which were offered as prizes at the Orphans' picnic took place in Lyceum hall, Washington street, last night. No. 1630 is the winning number in the automobile contest, and should the winner not turn up in seven days these numbers are next in precedence, 1340, 1837, 839, 4406 and 1512. The winning number for the couch is 387, with numbers 709 and 572 next in order should 387 not turn up. Twelve numbers were selected in the following order for distribution of the six paintings contributed by local artists: Four hundred and nineteen, 445, 277, 505, 465, 240, 120, 316, 475, 152 and 232. The holder of ticket 702 is the winner of the gold watch offered at the Epiphany table.

FAMILY AVERAGES DEATH A MONTH

Son's Drowning Takes Away Quartet of Members and Sad Conditions Prevail.

FATHER HEARS NEWS IN JAIL

Stanzulish Jarzembowski, aged 13, of 302 Thirty-third street, was drowned while bathing in the Allegheny river yesterday morning, shortly after 8 o'clock, under the Junction railroad bridge. This makes five members of the family that have died during the last four months.

The boy's mother died about three months ago. The father, John M., married again about two weeks ago. The undertaker who buried the first wife made information against him for false pretense. The husband, it is claimed, did not pay the funeral expenses of the first wife and the undertaker was of the opinion that obligation should have been satisfied before he took a second wife. The husband was sent to jail.

When it was learned yesterday morning the boy had been drowned Mrs. Jarzembowski, his step-mother, went to jail and gave bail for her husband's release. The parent walked from the jail across Diamond street to the morgue and identified his son. Two of the dead boy's brothers and a sister died recently from typhoid fever.

Mrs. Kate Gunnel, aged 35, of 2209 McClurg street, South Side, committed suicide at her home at 9 o'clock last night by drinking carbolic acid. The motive is not known. She is survived by her husband and two children. The members of the family were down stairs at the time. They heard her scream and when they reached her room she was lying on the floor in great agony.

A physician was summoned, but when he arrived the woman was dead. Her husband said they had lived pleasantly together. Mrs. Gunnel sought her neighbor, Mrs. McDonough, yesterday morning to buy the poison for her. She did not tell Mrs. McDonough what she wanted it for.

The body of a man supposed to be Benjamin Wolfe of Philadelphia was found in the Monongahela river yesterday afternoon, under the Panhandle railroad bridge. There were several letters found on him and it is believed at one time he boarded at 227 Dinwiddie street, this city.

ALEXANDER D. ROSS DEAD.

Former Secretary of Pittsburgh Locomotive Works Passes Away.

Alexander D. Ross former secretary of the Pittsburgh Locomotive and Car works, now known as the American Locomotive Company, died yesterday afternoon at 1:40 o'clock at his home, 619 North Euclid avenue, East End, after two months' illness following a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Ross was born at Whithorn, Scotland, April 15, 1845, and came to Pittsburgh in 1856. For several years he was engaged in manufacturing enterprises and finally became a clerk in the Pittsburgh Locomotive and Car works, working his way to the position of secretary, which position he held until his retirement in 1903. He was married in 1866 to Miss Katherine E. Bassett of this city, who died 11 years ago. The following children survive: Edwin B., Charles C., Misses Mary Isabel and Janet R. Ross, all at home. He also leaves a brother, John Ross and a sister, Mrs. David Ritchie, both of this city. Funeral services will be held at the family residence Sunday at 2 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Dr. William P. Schram, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church.

Nickels Totally Blind.

Within two years John Nickels, aged 34, a hammerman at the La Belle steel works in Allegheny, has lost the sight of both eyes through accidents, and he is totally blind. While working at his hammer yesterday afternoon a small piece of steel struck him in the right eye. He was taken to the hospital, where the doctors stated the sight was permanently destroyed.

Japanese Garden Party a Success.

It is evident from the crowd that attended the Japanese garden party, held yesterday afternoon and evening in Bellevue, under the auspices of the Bellevue Ladies' auxiliary for the benefit of the sick baby fund of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Bottled Milk and Ice society, that many babies will be immensely helped. The affair, which was one of the handsomest of its kind ever held in Bellevue, was held on the lawns along Lincoln avenue, between Jackson street and Florence avenue. The lawns were handsomely decorated in Oriental style and lined with Japanese lanterns. There were 150 lady attendants, all dressed in Japanese costume, who made a picturesque appearance. Among the many features was a baby show. The Keystone Band furnished music.

BANK OF PITTSBURGH RECEIVES MANY GUESTS

Thousands of Business Men Inspect the Fine New Counting Rooms on Opening Day.

Several thousand business men yesterday visited the Bank of Pittsburgh and inspected the magnificent new addition to the Fourth avenue corner room. The central court between the north and south entrances of the building was embowered with palms and the officers of the institution were on hand to receive their multitude of guests.

There was no precise observance of the 3 o'clock closing rule yesterday in so far as the front doors were concerned, and later in the evening the employes were free to join their comrades of other banking houses who came to pay their respects and to wish the force of Western Pennsylvania's oldest financial institution continued success. From an architectural point of view the building is one of the finest in the city. There are others more elaborate in the interior decorations, but none is adorned in better taste.

Friday, July 28, 1905.

It is the apparent intention of the Wabash to resume active work toward the completion of its Pittsburgh terminals. This is good news. It implies the employment of much labor and the purchase of large supplies in this district. More important, it means a large addition to the shipping facilities of the region which are needed.

Gov. Deneen gives ample reasons for his refusal to stay the execution of Johann Hoch, convicted of wife murder. The respite granted was to enable a presentment to the supreme court. No move was made to that end. So the governor let the law take its course, as he should. There is too much tender mercy exhibited for murderers who displayed no such quality toward their innocent victims.

Midvale armor plate has passed the official test with credit and a large consignment will be delivered at once. The mystery surrounding the Midvale process is, however, as deep as in the beginning. The process is no affair of the government's. If others are paying a royalty for its use, it is their business to learn the truth and protect themselves. Meantime the government is getting some cheap armor plate.

Discovery by the Russian authorities of a widespread revolutionary plot centering in the Black Sea fleet and the fortress at Sebastopol, has led to the disarming of two warships and many arrests. It appears the conspiracy failed because the crew of the Kniaz Potemkine did not await the proper time. This may be some consolation for the Russian authorities, but at the same time it must impress on them the dangers of the situation. Russia is in a bad way.

Controller Larkin has changed. There was a time when he argued that 10 mills on $300,000,000 valuation was ample to meet the needs of this city. He promised to reduce the tax rate to that standard. Now he spends considerable time arguing for a certain increase of a half mill over the rate of 15 mills on $400,000,000 valuation in order to afford an excuse for another advance in the assessment. Is this why Director Bigelow says Controller Larkin is no longer an Orphan?

Admiral Goodrich has begun an investigation into the causes and responsibilities for the explosion of the boilers of the Bennington at San Diego. The inquiry is to be exhaustive and will settle the question whether there was negligence or incompetence in any quarter. This is a proper course. At the same time more positive benefit might be derived from an active investigation of the condition of all vessels of the navy whose boilers have not blown up.

A good account is given of the wireless telegraph as operated on the Brooklyn during the cruise to France and back with the body of John Paul Jones. A message was received, good and strong, over a distance of 1,100 miles and a signal over a distance of 1,760 miles. There is no doubting the value of this means of communication for warships, though Japanese naval officers say the Russians were able to disturb their messages when they tried and were near them. As a safety device for passenger and freight vessels the wireless is a success.

There is some discouragement in the reported accident on the Yorkshire & Lancashire railway in England. The road has recently been converted into an electric line and it may be this contributed to the accident. British railway statistics are constantly cited as proof that American railroading is not as secure as it should be. Hence it is a double shock to hear of a collision on an English road. It seems so much like a step backward.

It may be inferred from the attitude of Broker Peckham before the Washington grand jury that every legal power of the courts will have to be exerted to obtain answers from witnesses in the cotton statistics scandal. Speculators who buy information are not eager to explain methods or processes. The sellers are not likely to be more willing. But if this case fails congress will not be able to resist the demand for legislation that will make future proceedings plain and provide for proper punishment of persons who prove faithless to their trust.

An Excellent Choice.

Gov. Pennypacker's appointment of Robert McAfee of Allegheny to be secretary of the commonwealth crowns the good judgment he has shown throughout his administration in the selection of men. Mr. McAfee has been banking commissioner, and in that office has given the greatest satisfaction. His efficiency and integrity impressed themselves strongly upon the governor, so it was quite natural he should choose the commissioner of banking for the more important office. It is a deserved promotion.

Robert McAfee is too well known in this community to need extensive introduction. Since his arrival in this country, when a very young man, he has been a citizen of Allegheny. His life has been an open book and it is one that bears well the closest inspection. As a member of Allegheny councils from the Eleventh ward, Mr. McAfee exhibited his knowledge of public affairs and his ideas of civic progress. At the head of the department of public works he made a record for achievement not paralleled in these cities. As commissioner of the department of banking he has earned the respect of every man having anything to do with that department. In his political activities he has been steadfast and every man has known where to find him. Through it all he has been honest and honorable; he has shown capability and progressiveness. As secretary of the commonwealth every citizen may be sure he will be just as faithful to his duty and the public interests intrusted to his care.

John A. Berkey of Somerset, appointed to succeed Mr. McAfee in the banking department, is not so well known. He has been active in the Republican party affairs of his county and aspired to an election to congress. His appointment leaves the field to Allen F. Cooper, who is a most satisfactory representative. Mr. Berkey has the incentive of future prospects to give the state the service to which it is entitled—to make a record worth while.

A Surprising Report.

A surprising statement was presented to the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society yesterday. It showed more insurance in force in the society than at the same time last year and an increase of more than $2,000,000 in income for the first six months of the year as compared with the same period last year. This covers the period of the charges, countercharges, investigations and reports that have kept the Equitable in the public eye every day. It is a remarkable exhibition of confidence in the statements of investigators that there has been no impairment of the society's resources, and that efforts at reorganization would prove successful.

Experience in this case is contrary to nearly all precedents. As a matter of fact, the scandals of the concern appear to have had the effect of advertising it. The public must have taken the view that assets large enough to be quarreled over indicated security for policy-holders.

The report of the examiner to Insurance Commissioner Hendricks on the Mutual Reserve is of a different nature. It is a scathing arraignment of the management, of the business methods and of the condition of the concern. The report illustrates the value of supervision by state departments, but at the same time supports the demand for national supervision that may be even more close. Insurance should never be permitted to run wild.

Yellow Fever Spread.

Despite all efforts yellow fever continues to spread in New Orleans. This was to have been expected during the first week after the general alarm. The ignorant have fled to the four quarters to escape contagion and have, instead, carried the contagion with them to new localities. Next week and the week after will tell the story of the efficacy of screening patients from the mosquitos. If it is proven that this precaution alone will prevent epidemics the outbreak will prove, as Dr. White says, a blessing in disguise.

New Orleans is deriving benefit in another way. It is said the city is being more thoroughly cleaned than it has been "since Ben. Butler's time." The comparison is, in itself, instructive. Gen. Butler did nothing by halves. When he undertook to clean the dirtiest city in the United States, he did it thoroughly. He made a precedent for the cleaning of Havana during the American military occupation, and probably, if he had been given his way, he would have remained long enough to teach New Orleans how to stay clean. As it is the city has evidently not wholly forgotten the lesson he gave it and the present experience will do it good.

A Russian Humorist.

The governor of Odessa, whose name is unfortunately not mentioned in the dispatches, seems to be a gentleman of remarkable gifts as a humorist. The Jews of that city having appealed to him for protection from the police, he censured them for their impertinence. "It is the Jews themselves who caused all the disorders," he said. "The police invariably found revolvers, bombs and prohibited literature in Jewish houses. But for the Jews there would be no disturbances and no Kniaz Potemkine affair."

It is a pity the governor's name is not mentioned. It ought to be printed in full, no matter how much space it takes, for such blithe complacency has not been seen since the late Bill Nye passed into the beyond. Even Abdul Hamid, the melancholy jester of the Sublime Porte, hasn't matched this joke. The Jews, it would appear, are to blame for all of Russia's woes. The governor forgot to include the Japanese war, but then it probably didn't occur to him that the Japanese might be the Lost Tribes.

Now the secret is out, it is to be hoped public sentiment will be strong enough to restrain the Jews from further outrages upon inoffensive Cossacks and lamblike moujiks. The massacre of helpless Russians ought to be stopped. The poor Christians of Kishenef and Warsaw must be protected against fresh outbursts of Semitic fury. Something should be done to assist impoverished Russians in emigrating to other lands, to escape the wrath of their oppressors. By all means the Jews must be restrained from persecuting the pitiful remnant of Muscovites.

Pharaoh hardened his heart, but Odessa's Pharaoh hardened only his cheek. Imagine Menepta telling Moses and Aaron that bricks had been found in all the Israelites' houses and that they were responsible for the election riots in Ethiopia and for the low stage of the Nile. But then Menepta wasn't a humorist. The governor of Odessa is.

Decision Will Be Secured.

Despite reports to the contrary Attorney General Hampton L. Carson has agreed, on his return from his vacation, to bring the matter of the board of tax assessment and revision before the supreme court. Mr. Carson has instructed Attorney Jackson to prepare the record so the suit may be filed in September. The application will be for a writ of mandamus addressed to the judges of the local courts, so the question will be settled promptly. The court sits in October.

Without intention to anticipate the decision of the supreme court on the point of law, The Gazette hopes it will be favorable. There is so much uncertainty about the existing system of making assessments and so much diversity that actual injustice is being done. The petition of the clergymen, the other day, exposed one form of the abuses to which the system leads. There are others no less striking. Uniformity is a principle of taxation imposed by the constitution and the laws. The present system sets principle and mandate at naught while each assessor returns estimates according to his individual judgment—or his lack of judgment, as the case may be.

Alleged Science.

While we may not deny the bacteriologists have done something for the welfare of humanity, there is a possibility they may do much evil. For example: A New York "news" dispatch the other day, on the authority of one of them, conveyed to the country the intelligence that murder by use of tetanus germs would be easy. The report gave detailed information for finding, rendering available and using the poison, alleged to be sufficient to kill a regiment.

This sort of "science" is mischievous, to say the least. If the statements were all true a much harsher term could be applied. It is a crime to teach robbery; it is worse to suggest means of murder difficult of detection. Fortunately the allegations of the bacteriologist in this case are not true. His process might be applied many times without causing death. It might cause death in the first case. In any event the bacteriologist who gives out such information affords an example that "a little learning is a dangerous thing" and casts more discredit on his profession than his fellow who so frequently rushes into print to exploit a new serum whose virtues are wonderful until they disappear wholly under actual test.

An investigation of magistrates' fees is under way now. Were there ever so many things to inquire about and set right in the course of one administration?

Two of Mayor Weaver's appointees have failed to pass the civil service examination in Philadelphia. Civil service examinations are always a bore in politics.

There has been another railroad wreck in England as an evidence that accidents are not confined to this country of magnificent distances.

A way has been found to permit the Forty-third regiment, Canadian troops, to pass through Boston. Boston is a funny place.

Another Kentucky feud has resulted in the usual way. What soldiers those fellows would make if Russia only had them.

J. Pierpont Morgan is coming home with 127 suits of new London clothes. Many a man with only two suits will pity him.

Baron Komura has seen the president and should now be in possession of some positive views about peace.

To prevent catching the yellow fever mosquito in Louisiana the best plan is to shoot the mosquito.

More mutiny has been discovered in the Black sea region. Of course this can be blamed on the Jews.

A combination of potteries should be handled very carefully to avoid breakage.

A Thoroughly Good Man.

Speaking of the report that the Hon. J. A. Berkey might be appointed secretary of the commonwealth, the Turkeyfoot News had this to say of him: "Whether the above is correct or not, no better qualified man could be chosen than the Hon. J. A. Berkey of Somerset, a man of brilliant mind, well trained and equipped and thoroughly familiar with state affairs, he would honor the position and the state."

Innocence and Prices.

Attorney General Moody says the beef trust magnates are to be presumed innocent until proved guilty, so we will have to keep on paying porterhouse prices for chuck steak.—Washington Star.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"Now you have struck a topic that is really worth while," writes "M. D." "Keep it up until you have set the people to thinking, and they will do the rest."

That's right; if you can get the people to think seriously about a thing that is really worth while it will not be long before they begin to act. And when the people act something has got to move, even officers who have become negligent, or feel that they don't have to do anything, or at least not much of anything.

Usually when people begin to think seriously concerning anything they begin talking about it, and those in authority hearing their talk take the hint, if they are wise, and get busy.

All that the people have to do in order to secure health conveniences throughout the cities and parks is to talk it up and talk so loud and plain that those in authority can't help but hear.

There isn't anything like earnest talk to keep public officials on the jump, for they very well know that if their conduct does not harmonize with the talk their race is about run.

And what more vitally important subject to talk on than health? And what is more essential to health than facilities for keeping the body and its various organs in proper condition?

Everybody knows that this is absolutely essential to health, so that it need not be argued here. And if the people will take the matter up on its merits, and discuss it as it should be discussed, clearly and fairly, they will win out easily.

* * *

What can be done about it? What shall we demand of the powers that be?

Well, for instance, in Allegheny, complete toilet rooms can be constructed under the market house at no very great expense, there being no cellars except small ones at the four corners of the building.

By taking two or three of the small stalls on the Federal street side, or any other side, for an entrance to the rooms the business capacity of the building would not be seriously affected.

Rooms large enough for two or three public wash basins, and as many public closets, together with several others for the use of which a small fee, ranging from two to five cents could be charged, would afford ample accommodations.

Each of the rooms would have a caretaker who would keep them in order, provide clean towels and soap, shine and polish shoes, and brush off those who desired such attention.

A great many people would stop to wash and brush up who would not hesitate to pay a nickel for the use of a private wash bowl, soap powder and individual towel.

For those who could not, or would not, pay a few cents for these there would be wash bowls, soap and towels for general use.

* * *

Such institutions as these pay well in the old country, and as far as they have been introduced in this country they have been a source of profit and that without being a serious tax on those who patronize them.

A commodious shelter house in east, north and west parks, with basements fitted up as toilet rooms are not only needed, but the health, comfort and convenience of the people demand that they be built, and the sooner the better.

Then there should be others on each of the principal streets, with commodes at convenient corners throughout the city.

The cost of all these would be so small that the people wouldn't notice it in the tax levy.

There are some folks, probably, who would be too modest, or too persnickety, to patronize such institutions, but the next generation would be educated up to this commonsense idea, so that at the very worst, they would become popular in a few years.

The toilet rooms in the Carnegie library building are only open to the public a part of the time during the week, and not at all on Sunday. Saloons and other public places being closed on Sunday makes it all the more important that the city establish places that shall be open all the time.

Market people complain, and with just cause, of the lack of clean, decent toilet rooms. The saloons which thrive around the market place have not been heard to complain yet. Possibly they will not be heard from until the city begins the installation of conveniences for the public.

* * *

"Where can I get a drink of water?" may be heard repeatedly on the streets many times a day.

Everywhere there are signs in sight showing where one can get a drink of beer, or any other kind of liquor.

Isn't it rather singular that our enthusiastic temperance workers haven't taken this as a cue and established fountains flowing with that same cold water over which they grow so eloquent at times?

It would not be necessary to set a fountain in front of every saloon, and it should be showy enough to attract the attention of strangers so they might not feel impelled to go into saloons to satisfy their thirst.

This would be a bit of practical temperance work that would attract the attention and merit the commendation of practical people everywhere.

Allegheny parks are well supplied with pumps and flowing fountains, but in other parts of the city the wayfarer has to depend upon saloons for a drop of something with which to wet his whistle.

But who will pay for fountains with which to advance the cause of temperance?

There is money enough collected every year to conduct political campaigns to pay for them and when once established each fountain would make more temperance votes than any one temperance candidate or campaign stumper.

Practical temperance is what the times demand and not hot air.

* * *

It will be in order for practical folks to get their heads together and devise ways and means for bringing these matters up before the people.

If you give your councilman to understand that it is the will of his constituents that he shall vote for these measures he will do so. Or if you put up a candidate who is in favor of this and elect him, he will vote for them.

You will find that practically every man, woman and child in the city regards this movement with great favor, so that it will not be necessary to inaugurate a campaign of education previous to calling for a vote.

We make a great fuss about typhoid fever, while it is generally conceded that many times more deaths occur from the lack of public conveniences than from typhoid.

But look at it from whatever point you may you will see that it is a matter of the greatest importance and should be attended to without delay.

Open Arms and Cold Shoulder.

China seems determined that if the United States does not maintain open arms the celestial empire will maintain the cold shoulder. In exchange for open doors for traffic in China there must be open doors for travel in this country and not too many questions asked about how long the travelers mean to stay and as to how they mean to occupy themselves while making us a visit."—Baltimore American.

Senator Mitchell's Sentence.

Those critics who have been sneering at the prosecutions of our eminent criminals and saying that the men highest up always escape prison, will be sore put to it in view of the sentencing of Senator Mitchell of Oregon to six months in jail, in addition to a fine of $1,000.—New York Evening Post.

The Foreign Cotton Market.

As far as the south is concerned, it need feel no immediate apprehension regarding its foreign market. The product tentatively promised eight years hence is a very small fraction of a minimum southern crop, and would exert no appreciable effect on our exports of raw material.—Atlanta Constitution.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 27.—A branch of what is destined to be the biggest woman's club in the world is to be established in New York soon. It will be known as the Lyceum club, the name of the parent organization, which was established several years ago in London, in Piccadilly, opposite St. James' park. Coincident with the establishment of the New York club will be the opening of the Berlin branch, in Pottsdamer Strausse, and the leasing of a building in Paris for a French club.

Following the plans already developed in the London Lyceum club, a building will be leased in a convenient location which will afford not only the usual club facilities, such as are found in the regulation men's club, but there will be some 40 bedrooms with bath for the convenience of members who are visiting the city. As the clubs in London, Berlin and Paris are for the benefit of travelers who are members, so the New York club will extend its privileges to any woman anywhere in the world who belongs and who may be "globe-trotting." While rooms may not be leased by the year, lockers may be, and women who frequently come to the city during the social season may leave their ball gowns and party wraps in them, thus obviating the inconvenience with bothering with suit cases every time one turns around. Moreover, if the local clubhouse is patterned after the London one in other features, it will enjoy the cosmopolitan distinction of having a real "smoking" room, not to mention reading and writing rooms, library and lounging rooms and tea room, besides a large assembly room for lectures and entertainments. The object of the Lyceum club is to gather together all that is best in art, literature, science and religion. The plan is to bring together women workers in every department of arts and professions to make it the first woman's club in the world. It is also meant to provide a meeting place for women workers and to promote intercourse between busy women of all nations for their mutual helpfulness and assistance. It is eventually expected that the annual subscription to the club will cover the sum of the rental, taxes and running expenses. An active committee will be formed at once for the development of the club movement in this country, and it is expected that by the early part of 1906 New York will have joined in the chain of international clubs, which its promoters declare is to have a greater influence on women than anything else that has yet been started.

"King" Back from His Island.

An interesting passenger in the Teutonic today was W. L. D. Cary of Oakland, Cal., millionaire, who enjoys the distinction of being the sole proprietor and ruler of an island in British waters, on which he is exempt from paying taxes, either to Great Britain or any other country. Mr. Cary's unique possession is the Calf of Man, located about 200 yards south of the Isle of Man. It is five miles in circumference, and contains about 900 acres, 140 of which are in a high state of cultivation. The population is about 40, one of Mr. Cary's tenants being an American millionaire. The island came into Mr. Cary's possession by inheritance, having been given to one of his remote ancestors by a former ruler of Great Britain for services performed for the crown. Mr. Cary's father was the last owner, and it was during his lifetime that the taxation of the island was abolished. Mr. Cary, Sr., protested against paying taxes, having discovered that the original deed of gift exempted it. The matter was taken up by parliament and Mr. Cary's position sustained. On the little possession the British government, years ago, erected two lighthouses. During his recent visit Mr. Cary purchased the lighthouses to make his title clear to everything on the island, and he now maintains them at his own expense. Mr. Cary, who is a naturalized citizen of the United States, says that he saw nothing while he was abroad to make him regret his taking the oath of allegiance to this government. "The United States is good enough for me," he said, after he landed this morning. Mr. Cary is accompanied by his wife, and left at once for his California home.

Foundling Twice Christened.

A foundling boy only a week old, picked up in East Sixty-eighth street by a policeman last Tuesday, has had the distinction of being christened both as a Protestant and a Catholic on the same day, and of having two sets of names. He is officially known as Stephen Wallis. As soon as infant waifs are strong enough to leave Bellevue hospital they are turned over to the State Charities Aid society, and to the Guild of the Infant Savior, the former representing the Protestant denomination and the latter the Roman Catholic. To avoid friction it was decided long ago by the hospital authorities to alternate in disposing of the children to the two societies. It was the turn of the guild to receive Stephen, but Miss Walker, who represents the state charities, was so captivated with the chubby boy that she had found just the family for Stephen, and must have him. She left word for Miss Lombard, of the guild, to the effect that she would permit her to take the next two children brought in. By some mistake Miss Lombard did not receive the message until after Rev. Mr. White, the Episcopal clergyman attached to Bellevue, had christened the child and it had become a Protestant. Miss Lombard appealed to Dr. Armstrong, who, unlike Solomon of old, was unable to order that the child be cut in two in order to see which woman would relent. He ordered that the boy be given to Miss Lombard. A priest of the Roman Catholic church was then summoned, and again Stephen got a couple of names and was taken away.

The Coney and the Glass.

Naturalists exploring a canyon near Salt Lake City, Utah, report the discovery of a specimen of the coney, an animal referred to in the Bible and believed to be extinct. The coney makes its appearance on a rock at intervals of about an hour and utters 20 or 30 barks, ending with a low, weird, unearthly sound. Then it disappears for an hour. The animal is 15 inches long, with a head like a hog. The critters, it is said, will not be disturbed. Naturalists say they have seen it with glasses and declare it is a coney. They fail to state how many glasses are required to see it.—Albany Journal.

ABOUT PEOPLE

How He Recognized It.

An American, recently returned from Europe, described a dinner party at San Remo, where W. D. Howells had been the guest of honor.

"Mr. Howells asked us if we had never wondered at the memory of those attendants in the cloakrooms of fashionable restaurants, who, without the use of checks or numbers, keep and restore to us infallibly our hats and wraps.

"Mr. Howells, with a smile, went on to say that after dinner one evening at a restaurant in New York he was much impressed with the assurance with which the cloakroom man picked out his hat from 100 others that resembled it.

"'How did you know that was my hat?' Howells asked.

"'I didn't know, sir,' the man answered.

"'Then,' said Howells, 'why did you give it to me?'

"'Because, sir, you gave it to me,' said the cloakroom man."—Detroit Free Press.

Bullets Instead of Curses.

Col. Charles W. Larned was talking at West Point about a famous and venerable army chaplain.

"A braver and more upright man never lived," Col. Larned said. "During the civil war he was in the thick of many a fierce engagement. He comforted the wounded, cheered on the brave, and put new spirit into the faint-hearted.

"He was once distributing cartridges in the midst of a hot fight. As he approached a certain company he heard a black-bearded private swearing at the enemy.

"'Blank them!' the man was saying. 'Dash blank the——'

"But the chaplain interrupted this stream of blasphemy.

"'You shouldn't speak like that, friend,' he said.

"Then he handed the man a packet of cartridges, adding:

"'Don't curse them. Shoot them, shoot them.'"—Buffalo Enquirer.

How Mark Twain Saved.

Mark Twain says that in his earlier days he did not enjoy the exceptional prosperity which came later in his career. It is commonly the lot of genius to suffer neglect at first, and experience did not affect his abiding good nature. In a conversation with William Dean Howells on one occasion the subject of literature vicissitudes was broached by the humorist.

"My difficulties taught me some thrift," he observed. "But I never knew whether it was wiser to spend my last nickel for a cigar to smoke or for an apple to devour."

"I am astounded," observed Mr. Howells, "that a person of so little decision should meet with so much worldly success."

Mark Twain nodded very gravely.

"Indecision about spending money," he said, "is worthy of cultivation. When I couldn't decide what to buy with my last nickel, I kept it, and so became rich."—Success.

The Inscription Curtailed.

Lieut. Gov. Bruce says a small headstone in a cemetery in the western part of the state is pointed out to visitors as one of the sights of the neighborhood. It was placed over the grave by a widower, who, while not lacking in love for the departed one, was penurious to a degree. He ordered a small stone because it was cheap, and told the mason to engrave on it this inscription: "Sarah Hackett, Aged Ninety Years. Lord, she was Thine." The stonecutter said there was too much inscription for so small a surface, but was told to go ahead and "squeeze it in somewhere." Here is the inscription as "squeezed": "Sarah Hackett. Aged 86. Lord, she was Thin."—New York Times.

Removed the Stamp.

During the South African war, when that country was under martial law, letters sent home by British soldiers had to pass through the hands of a censor.

A private in a Yorkshire regiment had sent four or five letters home, telling his parents about the doings of his regiment, and portions had been obliterated by the censor and were therefore illegible on their arrival at the destination. He decided to even accounts with the censor, and at the foot of the next letter he wrote:

"Please look under the stamp."

At the censor's office the letter was opened and read as usual. The officer in charge spent some time in steaming the stamp from the envelope so that he could read the message which he was certain he would find there. At last his patience was rewarded; but his feelings can better be imagined than described when he read these words:

"Was it hard to get off?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Recalling Dates.

James Dalrymple of Glasgow, the expert on municipal street car ownership, was comparing in Cleveland the public with the private operation of water supplies, gas works and kindred utilities.

"When private hands take hold of these things they run them beautifully at first. The people at first are highly pleased. But with time's passage the popular pleasure wanes; it changes to vexation; and to bitterness, and then," said Mr. Dalrymple, "reminds me of a recent happening in Glasgow.

"There was a Glasgow man to whom his wife said:

"'Donald, next Thursday is Helen's birthday. She will be 11 years old. Give me a little money, please, to get a birthday present for her.'

"The man, as he took out his purse, said querulously:

"'How the deuce are you able to remember so exactly the dates of all our children's births?'

"'Easily enough,' the woman answered. 'Our first child was born on January 17, and on that date you gave me a necklace of diamonds and rubies. Our second was born on June 2, and on that date you gave me a needlecase worth sixpence. Our third child was born on October 27, and that date is firmly fixed in my mind through a terrific rumpus that you made about a milliner's bill.'"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Substitute Answered.

The late Bishop Green on one of his diocesan visitation stopped with an old friend at Sewanee, Tenn.

At the early supper of the south, always a most informal meal, the bishop said he would have nothing but a dish of bonnyclabber, a little nutmeg sprinkled over.

"There ain't a bit of nutmeg in the house," exclaimed the maid when the request was repeated to her.

"Dear me," said the hostess, aside to her: "go to Mrs. Darlington, next door, and ask her to lend me a nutmeg."

Mrs. Darlington also was "out" of nutmeg.

"Then go to Mrs. Harding, on the other side; we can't all be out at once. Then bring the bishop the dish quickly."

The hostess kept up a rapid fire of bright talk to cover the hiatus in the service until the maid appeared with the desired dish.

"What an addition is the little sprinkle of nutmeg," said the bishop; "what a fine relish it gives."

When the good guest had retired the mistress said to the maid:

"Go to the supply store the first thing in the morning and get nutmegs and return the nutmeg to Mrs. Harding and——"

"But Mrs. Harding was out of nutmeg, too."

"Then where did you get any?"

"La, miss, I was dat warried out dat I does tuck a wooden handle to a ole shoe buttoner an' grated it on."

And the bishop had relished it. So much for the power of suggestion.—Lippincott's Magazine.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES

Miners Dine in Tuxedos.

Butte, Mont., which enjoyed fame for a score of years as a wide-open gambler's resort, has reformed. The few residents who have not signed the pledge are drinking non-commercial whisky, there is no gambling except through the innocent slot machine, and the leather mining jacket and ominous plaid bolster have been superseded by the boiled shirt and the dress suit. Sin has been conquered, and the atmosphere, which used to be blue with artistic profanity, is being pierced by church spires and vibrated with no noise except the monotonous rumble of the water wagon. Financial circulation has literally taken wings, Butte by the ears and its citizens are following the straight and narrow path with a facility that is refreshing to see. C. L. Thompson, a prominent resident of the famous mining town, who is a guest at the Monongahela House, last night told of Butte's reforms. The miners out there in these days, he says, are men of reputable character, the majority of whom have gone to the west in search of health. In the mines they make good wages and live surrounded by all the conveniences of gentlemen. "When they go to dinner," declared Mr. Thompson, "they dine in evening dress." And it's a long way to Butte.

Where People Never Die.

"Do you know that Pennsylvania has a town where not a single death has occurred in the last five years?" said Herbert Morris, a Philadelphia traveling man who "mashed" at the news stand in the Hotel Henry last night. Mr. Morris said he had traveled through all the reputed healthy regions of the country, but insisted that no community under Uncle Sam's flag could make the boast that is given by the little hamlet of Glen Richey, up in the mountains of Lycoming township, Clearfield county. "Glen Richey," said Mr. Morris, "has a population of over 500 people. The physicians in the place say that they have little to do and that their patients invariably get well. The undertakers die out a Methuselah at other employment, the one hearse in the town has not been used in five years, and when I saw it laid up in a bar shed, covered with dust and cobwebs, one of the wheels had been removed to fix up the undertaker's turnpike. Among the people who have lived there a long time two have died in five years. Both succumbed to old age. One went down to Clearfield and died a few months afterward and the other went out west and gave way under the enervating influences of the dry air. Neither was brought home for burial. You can't kill 'em in Glen Richey."

Office Men Meet.

The Office Men's club held its regular monthly meeting in the Hulme building building in Fourth avenue last night. Col. G. G. Hepper, auditor of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, delivered an address on "The Objections and Characteristics of the Modern Business Man," and Prof. E. G. Gill talked of the various forms of bookkeeping. At the August meeting Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag will tell of the work in the Carnegie Technical schools.

Mr. Cohn's Evening Mail.

"I want Mr. Cohn's evening mail," shouted a guest at the Colonial last night to Clerk W. S. Joyce. "Which Mr. Cohn?" inquired the patient Joyce. "Ohio, the traveling man," replied the guest. "We have seven Cohns here now and all are traveling men and all come from New York," replied Joyce. "You fellows ought to know by this time that you have 'John Smith' killed a mile when it comes to similarity of names. I might tell you also that of the seven Cohns who are stopping here four sell dry goods and notions." Mr. Cohn then told his first name and got his "evening mail."

Will Flirt With Peacemakers.

The girls up in Portsmouth, N. H., are planning to flirt with the Japanese peace plenipotentiaries when the peace conference begins there next week. Mrs. Martha Funderburk of Boston, who was a passenger last night on the Pennsylvania limited, said that the belles of Portsmouth have been arranging all kinds of lea parties to be held during August and that pressing invitations have been sent to the distinguished Japanese gentlemen. "The New Hampshire girls have learned to put their hair up in pompadour fashion and expect to break the hearts of the yellow men, so Mrs. Funderburk says.

A Prototype of Othello.

An interesting discovery has been made among a series of ancient documents collected from the archives of the Calergi family and presented to the Royal Institute of Sciences and Letters at Venice by Signor Cesare Levi. An inspection of these documents has revealed the identity of Othello, the protagonist of Shakespeare's tragedy, who proves to have been one Nicolas Querini, son of Francesco, while Desdemona was the daughter of Fabius Quersini. Both belonged to noble Venetian families which were related to each other. The episode forming the plot of the tragedy occurred in 1542, at the Church of St. Francesco of Rethimo, in Candia, where Desdemona had taken refuge. The church has now been converted into a mosque. From the will of Antonio Calergi, which has also been discovered, it appears that he was an intimate friend of Cletho, from one of whose tales Shakespeare took the materials for his tragedy.—London Telegraph.

ONLY NOMINAL BOND IS GIVEN

Wabash Gets a Preliminary Injunction by an Agreement on a Statement of Fact.

BOTH ROADS ARE TO APPEAL

An order was made yesterday in court of common pleas No. 2, arising out of an amicable arrangement between the Wabash-Pittsburgh terminal and the Lake Erie railroads, in the proceedings instituted because of the erection of the Wabash extension along Carson street. The Wabash wanted an injunction restraining the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie from interfering with the work on the Carson street line. Attorney A. M. Neeper and Reed, Smith, Shaw & Beal agreed upon a statement of fact upon which a preliminary injunction was granted by the court, restraining the defendant from interfering with the Wabash in its Carson street extension. Another stipulation was filed and approved by the court, whereby the defendant proposes to appeal and have the appeal act as a supersedeas. By the stipulation the plaintiffs' bond on the injunction and the defendants' bond on the appeal are each in the nominal sum of $1,000, without prejudice to the right of either party to recover damages.

The statement of facts practically recites the facts alleged in the bill and the answer filed some days ago. The case hinges on whether Carson street was widened 10 feet by a city ordinance. The defendant company's land goes to make up this additional width and it is averred the property still belongs to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, because the city did not open the street, but the Wabash claims to occupy the land because the city gave it the right to do so, as it was the city's property.

Make a Counter-Claim.

Bothwell & Carson filed an affidavit of defense to the suit of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company for $17,627, which the railroad alleged it overpaid the defendants for work done in building its line. The defendants deny this and say there was no overpayments. They set up a counter clause of $22,376, and allege the final estimate attached to the plaintiff's statement is fraudulent and made to defeat the defendants from recovering the amount due under the contract and for extras.

Judge Buffington granted an injunction to the Western Union Telegraph Company against the burgess and the borough of West Brownsville restraining them from interfering with the company reconstructing its telegraph lines. The trouble arose over the re-locations of the poles and an attempt of the borough to collect taxes. The counsel for the borough denied that the collection of taxes had anything to do with the matter. The plaintiffs gave bond in the sum of $1,000.

Mary P. King, guardian of Julia A. Conway, began a suit to recover $2,000 on an insurance policy taken out by the child's father. The suit is against the Supreme Council Catholic Mutual Benefit association. It is alleged Michael Conway took out a policy for this amount, payable to his wife. He gave it to her, it is alleged and she paid the assessments on it, it is claimed. It is alleged he deserted her in July, 1904, took the policy and made his brother beneficiary. Conway died intestate, May 19, 1905, it is alleged, and his wife died January 18, 1905, leaving their child Julia, as their only heir. The child's guardian now wants the policy paid to her, alleging she is the one it rightfully belongs to.

Trusted Wife Ran Away.

The commissioners in the divorce suit of Francesco Visco vs. Nicolina Visco has filed his report. Infidelity on the part of his wife is alleged by the libellant. He says his wife eloped with Aurelia Laingo to Philadelphia. Visco says he is a fruit merchant and says "my wife always enjoyed my confidence to such an extent that when she left, me she carried $1,500 cash." He also said she took jewelry valued at over $1,000.

Two petitions in involuntary bankruptcy were filed, one is against the Seelar Elevator Company of Pittsburgh. The petitioners are the International Savings and Trust Company, Hartley Rose Belting Company and W. J. Early & Sons, Limited, all of Pittsburgh. The petitioners aver that the Seelar Elevator Company while insolvent committed an act of bankruptcy by confessing judgment to Mrs. F. R. Haines in the sum of $80, upon which a judgment and execution have been issued. The other petition is filed against Jacob Sodine, doing business as Sodine & Co., Pittsburgh. The petitioners are Bonini Bros., Descalzi Fruit Company, Anthony Schaub and Joseph Battaglia & Brother of Pittsburgh. Their total claims amount to $67 29. The petitioners aver that Sadini & Co. permitted Salvatore Catanzaro & Co. to procure a judgment upon which execution has been issued and the property has been advertised to be sold on July 29.

Cassius H. Gabriel, a merchant of Spartansburg, Pa., filed a petition in bankruptcy. His assets are $7,245 92 and liabilities $25,112 38.

Maggie Kane filed statements in her suits against the Cunard Steamship Company, Ltd., and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. She alleges her trunk was lost while she was going to Ireland and now she asks $1,000 from each of the transportation companies over whose lines she traveled.

Jerry Conners sued the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for $1,000 for the loss of his baggage, including some carpenter tools, which he says were lost by the defendant. He says he went to Ireland but was compelled to come back because of the non-arrival of his tools.

Executions issued: Savings Fund building and Loan Association of Pittsburgh vs. Joseph Harding et al, notice, $1,637; same vs. same, $1,637; same vs. same, $1,637; same vs. same, $1,483; L. M. Allen vs. H. Frank Rambler, $362; James W. Houston & Co. vs. C. R. Groetfend et al. $350; Safe Deposit & Trust Company of Greensburg vs. H. J. Lawrence, $1,452; same vs. S. M. McElroy, $1,452.

SWEPT OVER BY CURRENT.

Young Woman Takes Lesson in Swimming With Serious Result.

While taking her first lessons in swimming Miss Irene Gerry of Altoona nearly lost her life in the Allegheny river at Oakmont yesterday afternoon.

Miss Gerry was the guest of several friends who are expert swimmers, and they prevailed upon her to join them in a plunge in front of the Oakmont club house. After getting elementary instruction Miss Gerry ventured out too far and was swept from her feet by the swift current. One of the guards at the club house brought her to shore in an unconscious condition. She was soon revived and will suffer no permanent ill effects.

Detective Superintendent McQuaide yesterday was awarded $2,082 by the county commissioners of Washington county for the capture and conviction of the murderers of Contractor Samuel M. Ferguson, in that county, September 25, 1903. Of the total amount $1,000 was for the reward and the balance was for the expenses of bringing the fugitives from England, where they were arrested.

A reward of $5,000 was offered by the Ferguson Contracting Company, and it is said this amount will now be paid.

FOUR GRAVES MARK RESULT OF BRADDOCK FIRE

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Tigis, the fourth victim of the fire at 725 Wood alley, Braddock, on Tuesday morning, took place yesterday afternoon. The burial took place in the Jewish cemetery at Mucklerat, Braddock township. The body of the mother was laid by the side of her three children, the twin sons who were suffocated at the fire, and the 5-year-old daughter Elsie, who died Tuesday afternoon at the hospital.

Fugh was shot through the thigh and lost a great deal of blood. Fights have been numerous between the two, according to the wife, who went before Justice Giles of Homestead, and made information charging assault and battery. The woman was locked up pending an inquiry.

HUMP PROJECT ON GRAVE'S BRINK

Friends of the Scheme Hopeful Something Will Happen to Put Life in Corpse.

MAYOR HAYS MUCH IN DOUBT

Hump promoters are hoping something will turn up to rescue the project from the grave. At present there is little life in the corpse. The most positive assertion gotten from any one connected with the house of mourning yesterday was from Mayor William B. Hays. He says the cut must be 18 feet or the scheme abandoned.

Director E. M. Bigelow was at city hall most of the day. He had two conferences with Mayor Hays and one with Controller John B. Larkin. After the last confab the director said he was not ready to announce what would be done.

Mayor Hays says his time was taken up with the opening of contracts and he has not had an opportunity to discuss the hump cut with Director Bigelow to any great extent. He does not know whether the project will be abandoned for the present or an effort made to carry the bond election, with the understanding the cut is to be 18 feet. The mayor is positive the removal should not be attempted except on an 18-foot basis.

The Mellons are holding out for an 18-foot cut. The mayor says he has been unable to learn just where H. C. Frick stands, and is not ready to say the cut will be attempted unless Frick agrees. From his conversation, one gathers the impression the scheme will be abandoned unless an agreement can be gotten from all the large property owners to waive claims for damages.

A friend of the hump cut says some of Director Bigelow's advisors are urging him to call off the election for this year. Some of the influential men in the Citizens party are counseling him to abandon the project because they believe defeat in the bond election will have a bad effect on the fusion ticket this fall.

MANY OFFERS FOR MOORE.

Director Moore Receiving Letters Which Urge Adoption of Some Kind of Street Car Fender.

Director Moore is being annoyed by persons who are agitating the enforcement of the fender ordinance. Recently he has received a number of letters from inventors, offering him money inducements to adopt their fender and force its use on the traction company. Yesterday he received the following letter:

"Ridgeview Park, July 25, 1905.

"Harry Moore, Esq., Director of Public Safety:

"Dear Sir—I have a plan of a fender that I think could be patented and be a great safety to the people. It is not patented, but I think that if you could stand half the patent fees and enforce the Pittsburgh Railways Company to use this fender, we could either sell the patent for about $50,000 or start a stock company.

"I am visiting Ridgeview Park at present, but if you wish to see the plan I can see you at my residence, 225 St. Clair street, East End, or at any place you designate to avoid suspicion of your being implicated in the patent. Advise me immediately, as we have no time to spare.

"Respectively,
C. LOCKHART WILSON,
"Ridgeview Park, Westmoreland County."

Investigation showed the writer to be a son of Hugh Wilson, who said his boy was but 17 years old. The boy is working on an invention of a street car fender and a cash register. Director Moore at first attempted to proceed against the writer, but when he learned he was a boy he dropped the matter.

The director said all fenders are useless unless the ordinance regulating the speed of street cars is enforced. This ordinance is in the hands of a sub-committee of councils and they have taken no action on it as yet.

NOTHING UNUSUAL.

Secretary of Insurance Companies Under Investigation Says It's Annual Examination.

L. D. Miller, secretary of the Duquesne Mutual Insurance Company, stated yesterday that the investigation now being made by the state insurance department of the Duquesne, Lafayette and North American Mutual companies was merely the annual investigation of the state actuary, such as was conducted last year.

Secretary Miller declared that the expenses of these companies were smaller than most concerns, and for that reason insurance could be offered at lower rates than those which prevail in companies in the underwriters' association. According to Mr. Van der Voort of the Inspection Insurance Company, the state insists that the word "mutual" shall appear in policies issued by the North American Mutual Company, and appears in very small type on the face of the policy.

Holds Mesta for Court.

Fred C. Mesta, manager of the Mesta Machine Company, West Homestead, was held for court yesterday by Alderman Groetzinger, on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Margaret Sample, of McDevitt place, Oakland. The informant alleged Mesta took her for a ride in an automobile, and that following a quarrel he kicked and beat her.

Forming New Coal Combine.

GREENVILLE, PA., July 27.—(Special.)—H. K. Wick of Youngstown, O., is heading a movement to gain control of all the principal coal mines lying along the line of the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad in Butler and Mercer counties. Options on the properties are being taken, and it is said that three-fourths of the desired number have already been secured.

Former Policeman Is Dead.

Former Policeman Peter Gassman of Allegheny died yesterday at the city poor farm at Claremont. He had been an inmate since September 11, 1903, and was sent there because of his weakened mental condition. For several years he had a saloon in East street. He served 10 years on the police force. He is survived by his wife.

Music Teacher Fined.

Carl Baumbach, a music teacher of 2 Federal street, Allegheny, was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Magistrate Abernathey for cruelty to his child. Anti-Cruelty Society Agent James H. Rea was the prosecutor. Baumbach denies he is guilty of the charge and says he will carry the case to court.

NEW SHIFT IN MANDAMUS CASE

Attorney General Advises R. H. Jackson to Prepare for the Supreme Court.

DISPARITY IN LOCAL TAXES

Another shift has been made in the mandamus proceedings to compel the local judges to appoint a board of tax revision. The story that the attorney general had decided not to interfere is absolutely wrong, as Attorney R. H. Jackson yesterday received a letter from Attorney General Hampton L. Carson in which the latter practically agrees to take up the matter, and requests Attorney Jackson to get up the petition for a writ of mandamus to be submitted to the supreme court upon that officer's return to Harrisburg. In this letter Mr. Jackson is made the representative of the attorney general.

The question of taking the petition for the writ into the Dauphin county courts, Mr. Jackson said, had been discussed by himself and the attorney general, and it was finally decided that if the record could be completed here the whole question could be more quickly determined by a direct appeal to the highest court. Attorney Jackson, however, had been directed to go ahead with the petition and several of those interested in the outcome of the matter understood that it had been finally agreed to go into the Harrisburg courts. As reports from Harrisburg indicated nothing at all was to be done, it seems the uncertainty was caused by the discussion of where to bring the suit and upon what kind of a record. The record has been arranged, as the local judges are as anxious to get the final decision, on the matter as the commissioners and the school boards represented by Mr. Jackson.

Officials Will Assist Attorney.

In order to allay the conflicting reports regarding the situation, Attorney Jackson met the commissioners, Controller Cunningham and Attorney Thaddeus C. Noble, who is special representative of the commissioners in a number of matters, and showed them the letter he received from the attorney general, which settled the matter. They will do everything they can to assist Mr. Jackson and while the commissioners are not parties to this action, yet they want to know how the taxes are to be assessed and who will do it. They cannot get the local assessors to act, because they cannot promise them their pay should the Woods act be declared constitutional. If it is declared unconstitutional, the commissioners can go ahead as usual.

Mr. Noble will represent the commissioners should they be brought into the matter, but under the present circumstances Mr. Jackson will represent the attorney general and the judges will select a representative who will look after their end of the controversy and argue the question for them. Attorney C. C. Dickey will probably be the lawyer selected, as he is familiar with the whole question.

Under no circumstances can the writ be applied for until September, as the supreme court judges cannot be reached until then. Mr. Jackson will go ahead with his preliminary work and he expects to see the matter disposed of as soon as the court sits in October, as the matter will be the most important that will come before that body and should be advanced on the list for quick adjustment and final decision.

Necessity for the Board.

The necessity for such a board is more apparent every day. It is known that millionaires and laborers are often assessed on the same occupation tax, it depending largely upon where they reside and who the assessor happens to be. H. C. Frick and Register George H. Stengel have to pay the same occupation tax, and many similar instances can be shown which, if the people of different trades and occupations were assessed on their incomes, would seem strange by comparison. The necessity for more uniformity is such that a new deal will probably be given if the Woods act is found to be constitutional. Even the judges of the local courts are assessed at different grades, depending upon where they reside. As all get the same salary, according to Banger's appeal, which decided the question of uniformity, all should be assessed in this county on the same occupation basis. This is true of many businesses and all the professions. The commissioners understand the glaring iniquities of the old system and are as anxious to see taxes adjusted as are the persons taxed. They are helpless, however, unless they adopt a uniform grade for all, as suggested in the supreme court case.

An Enchanted Lakeland.

The "Highlands of Ontario," considered the most beautiful summer resort district in America, is annually attracting more attention as the ideal playground for the tourist and holiday seeker. During the last week in June this season, the members of the Builders' Exchange of Cleveland, Ohio, to the number of 200, held their annual outing in the Muskoka lake district, one of the principal regions of this vast territory, making their headquarters at the "Royal Muskoka" hotel. The Cleveland Plain Dealer of June 30 publishes an article by their special staff correspondent, in which appears the following: "The Royal Muskoka hotel is one of the largest and best equipped summer hotels in Canada, opened a week earlier than usual to entertain the builders. The two days here have been most thoroughly enjoyed by the members of the party, and the picturesque and beautiful scenery along the railroad and lake route, in the center of the 'Highlands,' amazed and delighted the Clevelanders."

Take a free trip—a mental little journey through Muskoka, by asking for that handsome Muskoka publication issued by the Grand Trunk railway system. It contains a large map, nineteen views and a fund of information. Apply for copy to W. Robinson, traveling passenger agent, 606 Park building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Death Roll.

Mrs. Eleanor Marshell.

Mrs. Eleanor Marshell, one of the oldest residents of this vicinity, died last night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Bardsley, 19 Riverview avenue, Allegheny, after a brief illness. Mrs. Marshell was one of the pioneers of Pittsburgh, coming here with her parents from Homewood, near Philadelphia, where she was born January 15, 1820. The trip was made in Conestoga wagons. Her father, Robert Ellis, was for years owner of a cotton mill that stood in Sixteenth street. During the girlhood of Mrs. Marshell the family residence was in Diamond street, on the present site of the opera house. After her marriage to Thomas Marshell on May 28, 1841, Mrs. Marshell moved with her husband to what is now the First ward, Allegheny. Mr. Marshell was prominent in the iron and steel business and for years prior to his death was manager of the Union iron works. He represented the First ward for many years in the board of school controllers and took an active interest in local politics and educational matters. On their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Marshell spent some time at Galena, Ill., the home of Gen. Grant. The latter at that time was part owner of a tannery. The friendship was continued after Grant had won the highest honors in the nation, and Mrs. Marshell often spoke of her meetings with him after he had become president. For 64 years Mrs. Marshell had been a daily reader of The Gazette. Her health was good until a few days ago. Of the nine children born three are still living. They are: Thomas F., Boston, Mass.; J. W., Omaha, Neb., and Mrs. Joseph Bardsley, Allegheny. Mrs. Marshell had been a member of the Smithfield Methodist Episcopal church almost 70 years. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

James Richardson Taylor, a well-known business man and clubman of Pittsburgh, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of his sister, Mrs. W. L. Mellon, Forbes street and Murdock entrance to Schenley park, after three weeks' illness of typhoid fever. Mr. Taylor was born November 1, 1866, at Staten Island, N. Y., and was a son of the late Matthew and Mary Hill Taylor of that place. He was educated in the common schools of Brooklyn, and after graduating for the High school took a course of study at Edinburgh University, Scotland. On returning to this country he engaged in the jarling and cotton business in Boston with his father, who died eight years ago. Six years ago he came to Pittsburgh and has been engaged in the glass business, being connected with the Brownsville Glass Company. He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Ronald Taylor of New York; Matthew Taylor, Boston; Mrs. E. J. Lederle, New York, and Mrs. W. L. Mellon of this city. Services will be held from the Mellon residence this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. Victor Bucher, assistant rector of the East Liberty Presbyterian church. The interment will be at Brooklyn, N. Y., tomorrow afternoon in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Albree was the descendant of an English family which located in America in 1615 and numbered Governors Dudley and Bradstreet of early Massachusetts among its members. His grandfather fought at Bunker Hill and Lexington, and throughout the revolution. Mr. Albree's mother was a member of the Curling family which formerly owned much real estate in Pittsburgh, and who introduced the glass industry into Allegheny county. Mr. Albree was reared in the old Albree mansion which stood in Liberty street on the present site of the Wabash station. Many years ago he went to Boston where he engaged in the leather business, from which he retired some time ago. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Mary McVey of Pittsburgh, and three sons, John, Jr., George and Edward.

Francis M. Milholland, aged 75, died suddenly at the family residence in Jenny Lind street, McKeesport, yesterday. He was born near Grantsville, Md., and went to McKeesport nearly 40 years ago. He was employed as a blacksmith at the W. Dewees Wood mill until about two years ago. He was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church and of the Royal Arcanum. His wife, four sons and three daughters survive him.

AN UGLY THREAT

A TINSMITH ALARMED BY THE TREMBLING OF HIS LIMBS.

Finds Out How to Regain Control of His Nerves and Is Freed from the Greatest Anxiety.

It is a much easier task to meet the attack of an open enemy than to dwell in constant dread of an assault in the dark that is vaguely hinted at and may come at the first unguarded moment. Hints of possible nervous break-down may well terrify any workingman, for his command over his nerves is a large part of his capital. Mr. William Browne of No. 1019 Lincoln street, St. Joseph, Mo., is an expert tinner in the employ of the National Biscuit Co. He tells the following story of a trying experience:

"In the spring of 1902," he says, "while I was regularly working at my trade, I grew somewhat careless in my habits of eating and drinking, and finally found that my appetite was fickle, a bad taste lingered in my mouth, my nerves twitched and were beyond my control, my kidneys were out of order and cold sweats would break out over my body at odd times. Perhaps, while I stood talking with some one, this trembling of the limbs, and profuse sweating, and a severe chill would seize me. I became alarmed at my condition and, having read an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I got a box and began to use them. They helped me at once. After I had used one box the twitching of the nerves, the trouble with the stomach and the cold sweats stopped and have not reappeared, and my appetite is good. I have told several friends that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all right and I recommend them to everybody."

Much has been said and written recenty about medicines that contain alcohol and, while most of the criticism has been unnecessarily alarming, it is evident that a remedy in pill form is certain to be free from objection on this score. Furthermore, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are absolutely guaranteed to be entirely harmless to the most delicate constitution and may be taken without fear. They have cured thousands of cases, and if you will write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., stating your trouble, you will receive a frank reply. If the pills will cure you, proof will be furnished; if they are not suited for your trouble, you will be honestly told so.

"DREYFUSS CAN'T PICK MY FRIENDS," SAYS HARRY PULLIAM

PULLIAM SCORES DREYFUSS IN A RED HOT STATEMENT

Says Pirates' Owner Is Entitled to No Favors and Won't Get Them from Him—Ought to Hurry If He Wants to Jump.

The war of words between Barney Dreyfuss and President Pulliam is reaching a sizzling stage. The reported threat of Dreyfuss to go over to the American league brings from Pulliam a red-hot rejoinder in which the owner of the Pittsburgh club is told to hurry if he wants to jump. The attached special telegram from The Gazette's New York bureau and the statement of Pulliam make about as interesting reading as anything that has happened in the baseball world lately. The New York special is as follows:

Despite impassioned threats to quit the National league, voiced through a Pittsburgh newspaper, there is no possible chance under present conditions for "Hey Barney" Dreyfuss to transfer his club to the American league. The shifting of a score of ball players from one league to another could not be accomplished without wrecking the peace agreement and precipitating another baseball war.

After one costly experience the club owners are not anxious for more trouble—at least in the National league. At the same time if Dreyfuss is in earnest he could give President Johnson of the American league a club with which Johnson might be able to shatter the National league, already tottering in more than one city.

Since the Pirates ceased to win pennants Dreyfuss has not enjoyed much prosperity or peace of mind. He is in trouble with President Pulliam and has a feud on with the New York club. Recently Pulliam is said to have snubbed Secretary Locke of the Pittsburgh club at Boston. This is said to have precipitated the Dreyfuss threat to apply for admission to the American league.

It is intimated that Johnson would like to have the Pittsburgh team moved intact into Washington. That would make the American league the strongest playing organization ever known in baseball, and would leave a vacancy which the National league would find harder to fill than the gap by Baltimore's defection in the American.

The transfer could not be accomplished, however, without the breaking off of friendly relations between the two big leagues, and all such talk is, therefore, ill timed.

President Harry Pulliam wired the Gazette the following self-explanatory statement last night:

"In answer to the semi-official announcement sent broadcast from Pittsburgh and which appeared in the New York papers today, to the effect that Barney Dreyfuss, displeased with the administration of affairs in the National league and further incensed at my failure to speak to his secretary in Boston, was threatening to jump to the American league, I wish to say over my signature and with all the emphasis I can bring to bear, that Barney Dreyfuss or no other man can pick my friends or tell me whom to bow to, and that if he is thinking of jumping, he ought to hurry, as it is needless for him to wait for the answer, for I wouldn't speak to Locke again in a million years. The fact that the Pittsburgh club won the pennant three years ago does not entitle it to receive any more consideration in the conduct of the league affairs than the unfortunate tail-ender of the league race. The only legitimate reward for winning the pennant Mr. Dreyfuss has received, in the shape of an enriched bank account, as a result of the generous patronage of the Pittsburgh public. He is not entitled to a fraction of a shade of the best of it in the government of the league, and as long as I am president he will not get it.

"He may win pennants from now until Lawson breaks up the Standard Oil, but he will only get the same treatment as the tail-enders, a fair deal and nothing more.

"Barney Dreyfuss knows me far better than any other man in the National league. He knows that as secretary and president of the Louisville club, then as secretary and treasurer of the Pittsburgh club, and later as president of the National league, I have been a fair man and square official.

"If he wishes to cast aside the friendship of 11 years' duration and line up against me on account of Locke or any other grievance, I will wish him luck and lots of it. In conclusion, I wish to say most positively, that no matter what disposition Mr. Dreyfuss makes of his team or how many hurdles he jumps, the National league will be represented in Pittsburgh in 1906 by a team worthy of that great city.

"HARRY C. PULLIAM."

—GAMES TODAY.—

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, MASS., July 27.—A close game, won by Pittsburgh 2 to 1, closed the Boston series, the Pirates taking three out of four and leaving town in a joyous mood this evening. In order to be at the redoubtable "Little Cy" Young, Sam Leever felt called upon to pitch one of the very best games of the year. He held the locals to two hits and neither hit nor passed a single runner.

Pittsburgh got nine hits, including two doubles and two triples, but it was not until the only free pass issued by Little Cyrus was converted into a tally tieing that Boston's long run of the third period ceased to seem impressive.

In every inning but the fifth a Pirate or more got safe to first. Both of Pittsburgh's three-baggers were accomplished after two men were out, and neither was a run producer.

Leach made the first in the initial period. Dolan losing his high fly in the bright sun and allowing it to drop behind him. Wagner hit to Tenney, who made the presentation to Young, and Hornis was forced to bump the Boston pitcher pretty hard when they came together at the station. Young slid off his feet for five yards, but managed to keep hold of the ball. Howard hit in the second, but Brain forced him and was then thrown out at second by Moran. Clymer hit in the third and got to third on two separate and sinful errors by Canneil, who fumbled and then made a bad throw, but again two were out and Clarke put up a fly to Tenney. With one down in Boston's half Wagner juggled Moran's grounder. Young fanned, but with Moran half way to second. Abbattichio swatted for two bases and Moran kept on around. It was Boston's only run.

There were two out in the fourth when Howard tripled. Brain filed deep to Delehanty. Howard's running catch of Young's foul enlivened the fifth. Clymer hit in the sixth and a double play followed. Howard doubled with one out in the eighth, but again his grand stick work went for nothing. In the eighth Peitz walked and Leever went a journey to win his own game by a double that put Peitz on third. Beaumont went out to run for him and scored on Clarke's timely single later.

Wagner led off with a smash in the ninth. An infield out advanced him, and he scored when Delehanty dropped Brain's fly after a sharp run.

A Boston admirer gave Peitz a bulldog today. Heiny will have a merry time getting the dog Homeward. Clarke, Clymer, Leever and Phelps go straight through to Pittsburgh, but the other players left this evening to play the annual game at Atlantic City tomorrow. Beaumont will probably be sent to Mt. Clemens or Battle Creek, Mich., to get rid of his rheumatic trouble, now that Clymer is back in the game. The score:

HARRISBURG, PA., July 27.—(Special.)—The Tri-State baseball league is not after national protection, does not want and would not know what to do with protection if it got it. ANOTHER DEFEAT FOR WANDERERS

Chicago Goes Down Before Pittsburgh and Tournament Will End in a Tie.

DETROIT AND LOCALS ARE EVEN

The defeat of the Chicago Wanderers yesterday at the hands of Pittsburgh 156 to 114, in the cricket tournament at the Pittsburgh Field club makes a tie for the Spalding trophy, which will be played off at a date and place to be fixed. All the matches of the visiting teams have been played and today the final game of the tournament will be played between Pittsburgh and Zingari, another local team. Each has won a match, and one must win today, making two matches for the winning team, which equals the standing of Detroit. The tournament ends today, as the match on Saturday is the suit against the west.

The wicket was slow, but the playing true and the fielding all good. The Wanderers were a decided favorite for the match and when they collected 114 runs in their innings it was thought the score was good enough to win. Pittsburgh, nothing daunted, started right in on the run-getting line. After J. Stuart had been retired with 5, young Graham Macpherson, nephew of Capt. George Macpherson, made a brilliant stand and rolled up the top score of 47, when H. Slack added 34, bringing up the total to 86 for three wickets, admirers of the locals breathed easier. The innings closed with a total of 156. The bowling of F. C. Taylor, Harvard's captain, was a feature, getting seven wickets for only 46.

For Chicago the batting of Homer Johnson, whom the locals lent the Wanderers, the teams playing 12 on a side, was splendid. In his top score of 46 he had six fours. Inlater played steady for 16. The bowling for Chicago was not up to its usual standard.

Last night the banquet was held at the Hotel Schenley, F. H. Taylor acting as toastmaster. Responses were made by George Macpherson, D. Davies, B. Harding, H. Nagh and Homer Johnson.

MUTUAL RESERVE IS NOW ACCUSED

New York Examiner Makes Charges Against Life Insurance Company.

SAYS IT FALSIFIES REPORTS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ALBANY, N. Y., July 27.—Concealment of judgments against the company amounting to $182,767, exaggeration of its surplus by over $900,000, and a fixed policy of delay in settling claims, are some of the charges made against the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company by Chief Examiner Isaac Vanderpool in his report submitted to State Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks, and by him today made public.

"The examination was begun last December and covers a period back to 1899. The company has headquarters in New York City and claims assets of between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000.

Examiner Vanderpool says that the management of the company made no mention of these judgments in the item of liabilities reported for the year 1904.

"The company's last annual statement," says the report, "produces a so-called surplus of unassigned funds amounting to $368,211 58. The examination just completed fixes this item at $38,492 16."

The report shows in detail how insurance at one time amounting to $1,923,989 75 finally yielded its beneficiaries $906,656 74, there having been deducted $296,655 20 on account of an indebtedness ascertained by the company to exist against the insured, with a further deduction of $722,686 69 retained by the company for the various alleged violations of contract by the insured.

"Making due allowance for the time it may occupy to thoroughly investigate all questionable death claims," says the examiner, "I think as the result of this examination it is quite clearly in evidence that the company has adopted a settled policy of delay in withholding the approval necessary to constitute an admission by it of the receipt of satisfactory evidence of death."

In 1895 the department recommended that the company establish a sinking fund to offset the depreciation of leases. The suggestion was adopted, but, says the examiner, "the fund appears to have been abandoned some time ago, for in 10 years it has reached but $56,948 76. The sum of $42,000 has, however, been borrowed from this fund, and is charged to mortuary account. The balance, therefore, after the loan to the latter account, reduces the leasehold sinking fund to $14,948 76 instead of $165,000, the amount which should now represent it, under the recommendation made in 1895 by the appraiser of the insurance department."

The report alleges that commissions paid by the Mutual Reserve for securing the membership of the Northwestern Life Assurance Company of Chicago in 1900 "never seem to have been received by it." The receiver's reports since the reinsurance was effected show no revenue from this source. The commission went to third parties."

Frederick A. Burnham is president of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company.

A memorial service in honor of Dr. Theodore Herzl, former president of the Zionist congress, was held in the rooms of the Pittsburgh Zionist council, 1851 Center avenue, last evening. President Henry Jackson presided and addresses and special music were provided.

THE THREE RIVERS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI—Seventeen feet, falling. Today's departure—Keystone State, Pittsburgh. The towboat movements today were: Arrived, the Otto Marmet, Lucie Marmet and J. T. Hatfield, from the Kanawha river with tows of coal for the local harbors. The announcement of the incorporation of a large coal company at Columbus does not worry the local dealers, as the new company has been in existence for some time and is composed of a series of railroad coal mines which have been operated without the use of the river for transportation. The new company will be known in the future as the Sunday Creek Coal Company. The flood tide of the last rise has passed Cincinnati and the river will be falling until the next rain at head waters. In the meantime the Kanawha operators who sell in the Cincinnati market are not taking any chances on not having enough fuel on hand to supply their contracts and are laying in a large supply of coal at all elevators and yards.

PARKERSBURG—Seven feet 6 inches, rising. Virginia for Pittsburgh; Queen City for Cincinnati.

MORGANTOWN—Seven feet 4 inches, falling.

OIL CITY—Ten inches, stationary.

GREENSBORO—Eight feet 1 inch, falling.

STEUBENVILLE—Four feet 9 inches, falling.

WHEELING—Five feet 8 inches, falling. Queen City for Cincinnati and Greenland for Pittsburgh.

LOUISVILLE—In canal, 6.7 feet; on falls, 4.5 feet; below locks, 15 feet.

MARIETTA—Six feet 6 inches, falling. Virginia up 3 p. m.; Queen City down 6 p. m.

GALLIPOLIS—Eight feet, falling.

POINT PLEASANT—Seven feet, falling.

PILOT LEWIS FALLS DEAD.

Well-Known Riverman Is Called Suddenly into Last Harbor.

The stage of water at the Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 4.6 feet and the river was stationary.

Pilot Joseph Lewis of the steamer Tom Lysle dropped dead while seated at the dining table on the boat yesterday noon as she was lying at Brown's landing, in the Monongahela. He had apparently been in the best of health. Pilot Lewis was one of the most popular pilots on the upper river. He had been employed by the River Coal company since its organization, and for years before that was with the several coal companies then operating. He made his home at Camden, across the Monongahela river from McKeesport, and leaves a wife and family.

The River Coal company filed libels against the steamer H. P. Dilworth and her owners yesterday, one for $101 and the other for $358 83. The first is for fuel furnished and the other for damages for the sinking of a flat near the Point in November, 1903.

The Ben Hur, bound for this point from Parkersburg, went aground at the trap yesterday morning and did not reach this city until late afternoon. This will probably be the last trip of this boat, and the Bessie Smith will take her place until the river rises.

The I. C. Woodward did not get in until noon yesterday, having been held by fog in the upper river. She had an immense trip going out.

The Greenland got in early last evening, several hours ahead of her usual time. She will leave for Charleston at 4 p. m.

Capt. J. F. Ellison of Cincinnati and Capt. William B. Rodgers and George H. Anderson of this city are in Baltimore as representatives of the Ohio River Improvement association at a meeting of the executive committee of the National Rivers and Harbors congress. The following telegram was received yesterday afternoon by Maj. A. J. Henderson, of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet line, which is self explanatory:

"Baltimore, Md., July 26.

"Conference eminently satisfactory. Convention will be called by National Rivers and Harbors congress. No doubt but a successful meeting will be held in Washington in January. (Signed) "J. F. ELLISON."

The object of the meeting in Washington in January is to urge upon congress the necessity for a large appropriation to further the work on the Ohio river. There was some opposition expected at the meeting in Baltimore from eastern cities, but, judging from Mr. Ellison's telegram, it did not materialize or was dissipated after explanations were offered by the rivermen.

SOCIETY

THE Masonic club house at Bear Run, near Ohio Pyle, is proving to be popular this season. Since the Masons established their country club house, nearly 10 years ago, in the midst of acres of wild mountain land, where the men could fish and hunt while their families had the advantage of real country life in the mountains, a number of cottages have been erected where families go for the entire season. Others remain for a few weeks at a time at the club house, a big commodious affair. Many also go out for the week end, staying from Saturday until Sunday night, and a special car is attached to the Ohio Pyle excursion train for the accommodation of the Masons and their families at Bear Run.

Among the owners of cottages, which are now all occupied and will remain so until the middle of September, are Rees Lindsay, D. J. Evans, J. H. McCrady and E. A. Japanese Garden Party.

A large number of Pittsburgh people went down to the garden party which was conducted yesterday afternoon and evening in Bellevue for the benefit of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Sterilized Milk and Ice association. The grounds in Lincoln avenue, between Jackson and Florence streets, were brilliantly decorated with ropes of Japanese lanterns and electric lights, while picturesque little booths were erected about the place. Many of the attendants were dressed in the Japanese costume, and several of the booths were reproductions of Japanese tea houses, from which the little Japanese maids served refreshments.

One of the many interesting attractions was a baby show, in which over 30 little people were entered. Mrs. N. J. Rodgers was in charge of the baby show, while among the candidates were Harold Spencer Griffith, Robert Young, Laurence Young, Frank P. Alston, Robert Barr, John Robert, John Morrow, Margaret Swartz, Sarah Clinton, Mary Clinton, William Laughlin, William Rodgers, Mary Sherman, Donald Henley, Hilda Marie Beekaut, Elizabeth Snodgrass, Ashley Mahaffey, Harry Vickerman and others. The general chairman of the garden party was Mrs. F. A. East.

Improvements at Soho Settlement.

Despite the fact that the 40 little girls in the Thursday afternoon sewing class in the Soho Settlement house were crowded into one room yesterday because the large front room is having a new hardwood floor laid, a great deal of work was accomplished. The little girls sang as they sewed, their needles flying through the gay colored materials which they were making into pin cushions and house-wives. A few minutes were given to a singing lesson and throughout the afternoon the girls would break out in some popular songs, the others joining in. Mrs. James C. Dick and Mrs. William Wilkinson supervise the sewing and Mrs. J. D. Arnold and Mrs. Caroline White have charge of the music and the physical culture drills.

Mrs. Montgomery Returning.

Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery, probation officer of the juvenile court, who went the last of June to Portland, Ore., to attend the national convention of Charities and Correction, is expected home next week. Mrs. Montgomery has been making her home at the Woods Run Industrial Home in Allegheny, where her husband is superintendent of swimming and has charge of the large swimming pool and the various swimming classes which are conducted there. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery will remain there during August. Mrs. Fergus, another of the residents, who has charge of the girls' classes and teaches the girls to swim, will take a vacation during August.

Will Photograph Eclipse.

Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd, who is well-known in Pittsburgh through her occasional visits to Mrs. William J. Holland and her lectures before the Academy of Science and Art, the Art society and the Twentieth Century club, sailed yesterday from New York with her husband, Prof. David P. Todd of Amherst, Mass., and her daughter, for Tripoli. Prof. Todd is going to Tripoli for the purpose of photographing the solar eclipse which is to take place August 30. They are traveling by way of Naples. Prof. Todd has photographed and made studies of almost every eclipse of any importance since his connection with the chair of astronomy in Amherst college, and is generally accompanied by Mrs. Todd, whose interesting lectures on scientific subjects have given her a national reputation apart from that associated with her husband's name. It is said that Prof. Todd is carrying with him fewer cameras this year, but will try new methods and new apparatus. He will photograph the "shadow bands" by aiming at the sun itself and will give the new 12-inch photographic lens of the Amherst observatory its first trial.

STOCK MARKET BROADER AND PRICES ARE HIGHER

The Pennsylvania Group Led the Activity in the Railroad List—Strong Rally in Pittsburgh Coal Preferred on the Local Board.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market was broader yesterday and the trading more active, the sales approximating 475,000 shares. London prices for American securities were higher, and it was estimated that foreigners bought 30,000 shares American stocks during the early part of the session, principally U. S. Steel and the Erie. The effects of the declaration of the initial dividend on Erie second preferred were more lasting than the realization of former dividend expectations, and although the dealings were still professional, bulls on the market felt encouraged over its action yesterday.

The Pennsylvania group led the market in point of activity, with Reading conspicuous for a rally to 104⅝ and a net gain of 1¼ per cent. The rise in this stock was thought to be due to covering of shorts put out last week on the rumors of labor troubles. Baltimore & Ohio rallied to and closed at 114¼, a net gain of 1¼ per cent. Ontario & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio were more active than for some time past and closed strong and higher. Pennsylvania itself scored a net gain of ¾ per cent.

The high-priced anthracite stocks were also active and strong. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western advancing to 389¾, or within a fraction of the record price established last spring. Delaware & Hudson advanced 2 per cent to 193½, but subsequently lost the gain. All the Erie issues were active and advanced slightly at the opening, but reacted later on profit-taking and were among the few stocks to close at net losses for the day.

The confirmation from Washington of reports of a spread of yellow fever in New Orleans caused a slight depression in stocks of railroads reaching that port, but later in the day they were among the strongest on the list. Part of this strength was no doubt due to the discovery that a short interest had accumulated on the yellow fever scare. Illinois Central rallied to 172⅜ and closed at the top, a gain of 2¾ per cent. Just before the close a rumor gained currency that Union Pacific was negotiating for control of Illinois Central on the basis of an 8 per cent guarantee. Louisville & Nashville, Missouri Pacific, Atchison and Rock Island, all of which would be affected by any serious check to business in the south growing out of the spread of yellow fever, were steady to firm and closed higher. The Harriman group was moderately active under the leadership of Union Pacific, which closed at an advance of 1½ per cent.

American Smelting common led the advance in the industrial list, reaching 119¼ on rumors of an increase in the dividend rate. Amalgamated Copper, which was quoted ex-dividend of 1¼ per cent, was fairly active and firm, recovering a portion of the dividend. U. S. Steel stocks were firm and closed ⅛ to ½ per cent higher.

Commodity markets were active and excited. Cotton advanced sharply and closed near the highest prices. Wheat fluctuations were wide enough to make an active trader's market. Corn closed lower on the splendid growing weather.

Call loan rates ruled easy at 2 per cent, closing at 1¾ bid, 2 asked. The secretary of the treasury gave notice that Philippine bonds might be substituted for government bonds as security for government deposits, provided the bonds released were immediately utilized for taking out additional national bank circulation, either by the bank making the substitution or by other national banks to whom the bonds released might be sold. The idea of the secretary is to increase the volume of currency by the time the crop-moving demand makes its appearance.

In the local stock market the trading was congested in a few stocks, but the tone was distinctly firmer. Pittsburgh Coal preferred made the largest gain, advancing to 48½, a recovery of 2½ per cent from the day before, and closing at 47⅞, a gain for the day of 2⅝ per cent. There were no dealings in the common stock, which was quoted at 12¾ bid. River Coal preferred was quoted at 22½ bid, 23 asked, but none of the stock changed. Lustre Mining was again the leader in point of activity and advanced to 35, the highest on the present capitalization, and just three and a half times the par value. The stock reacted slightly from the top, but closed firm at 34⅝ bid. The only activity in the Steel stocks was in Crucible common, which recovered to 10½ and closed firm. The preferred did not change hands, but closed at 61½ bid, 62 asked. Less than a hundred shares of U. S. Steel common and preferred changed hands all day, and there were no dealings in any of the Westinghouse stocks. National Fire Proofing was moderately active at 8 for the common and 30@30⅛ for the preferred. A block of 500 shares Pittsburgh Brewing common sold at 26⅜, but there were no transactions in any of the other Brewing securities. Manufacturers' Light & Heat advanced ½ to 35 and Ohio Fuel Spply was firmer at 39¾. The rest of the market was extremely dull but steady in tone.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

It was a matter of comment yesterday that the only prominent New York stocks to close at a net loss were the Erie issues. The effect of the unexpected declaration of a full year's dividend on Erie second preferred, announcement of which was made a few minutes before the close of the market on Wednesday, was greater on the rest of the market than upon the Erie issues, which were directly affected by the dividend. The speculative character of the dealings seemed to be demonstrated by the fact that the largest net gain for any railroad was the one which has a direct connection with the port of New Orleans, where the government reported yellow fever was spreading. The whole group of southern railroad stocks with one exception closed higher. This is all the more remarkable because of the official estimate of a decrease of practically 15 per cent in the cotton acreage. One of the logical movements of the day, however, was the advance in St. Paul, which should benefit by an average yield of spring wheat, which now seems assured. Wall street is much confused in its views as to the future of the market. Last Monday two prominent commission houses came out strongly advising the taking of profits on the long side, and predicting a sharp and general reaction throughout the list. Yesterday they had so far modified this view as to suggest that stocks might be purchased on slight reactions, and that the tendency seemed to be upward.

The 3½ per cent rally in Pittsburgh Coal preferred occurred on transactions amounting to only 1,350 shares. Part of the buying was undoubtedly for short account, and if the strength continues the short interest will feel less certain of its position.

Buying of Lustre continues of a confident character, but the advance of $13 a share within less than a month constitutes a very tempting opportunity to take profits. Some of the stock sold yesterday at 35 was bought around 10 two years ago.

A block of 500 shares Pittsburgh Brewing common changed hands at 26⅜, Marlin to Hooker. There was no trading in any of the other Brewing issues, but prices were steady to firm.

United Copper was very dull, one small lot changing hands at 32. There was a fair demand for Tonopah Extension, but no sales were recorded. Ohio Tonopah sold to the extent of 1,500 shares at 34 cents, a decline of 2 cents. A private sale of 500 shares Golden Anchor was reported at 38 cents, a decline of 2 cents from the last previous sale.

The net earnings of Wabash for June showed a decrease of $356,976. In the corresponding month a year ago the company was handling a large world's fair traffic.

The hundreds of visitors who accepted the invitation of the Bank of Pittsburgh yesterday not only had the pleasure of inspecting one of the finest banking rooms in the country, but as they continued their tour through the various departments they were impressed with the fact that the policy of the management and the efforts of the architect were not confined to the rooms devoted to the convenience of the public or the directors. What might be called the work room of the bank is the largest, best lighted and most conveniently arranged of any bank in the city, and in the basement nothing is lacking for the accommodation and comfort of the large force of clerks and other employes.

The advancing tendency in United States Steel common was checked by the heavy sales of one prominent Wall street commission house.

New York copper prices advanced ⅛c a pound yesterday. London prices for the metal were also higher.

The City Insurance Company of Pittsburgh has declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent, payable forthwith.

The dividend on Erie first preferred is payable September 15, 1905, to stockholders of record at the closing of the transfer books on August 17, 1905. The dividend on the second preferred stock is payable 2 per cent on October 9, 1905, to stockholders of record at the closing of the transfer books on September 11, 1905, and 2 per cent on April 9, 1906, to stockholders of record at the closing of the transfer books March 12, 1906.

The Pocohontas Collieries Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred stock. The dividend is payable August 1.

Minority holders of Allegheny Valley preferred comment upon the fact that that stock is beginning to look lonely on the non-dividend list, since Reading common and Erie second preferred left its company.

Unless the yellow fever conditions in New Orleans improve soon the trunk lines running to New York will get a considerable amount of traffic that would otherwise go through the port of New Orleans. In that event the Erie will get its proportionate share as it is in a position to handle traffic promptly and has a low-grade line from Chicago to New York.

The United Gas Improvement Company, lessee of the municipal gas plant of Philadelphia, reports for the quarter ended June 30 receipts from sale of gas $1,629,647. The city receives as its percentage $165,855.

"By the declaration of a 4 per cent dividend on Erie second preferred stock in two installments of 2 per cent each, the Erie company obligated itself to pay out a sum of $940,000 in dividends over and above the amount paid out on the first preferred stock. Considering Erie's position with respect to necessary improvements, and considering the ruinous terms on which it has been compelled to borrow money since its reorganization, it strikes us that this dividend is a trifle unnecessary. We understand that close upon one-half of the amount of $940,000 which the dividend involves would, if distributed yesterday, have gone to a compact group of stockholders represented by powerful banking interests very closely identified with the property and in complete control of its finances."—Wall Street Journal.

The Coal Trade Journal says: "A large quantity of bituminous coal is being consumed, but the tonnage going forward is greater than the market really requires, and this results in an inactive demand on the part of consumers. Occasional sacrifices of demurrage coal at one point or another tend to keep up the feeling of uncertainty and demoralization, which is not relieved at all by the fact that occasionally contract coal is refused under circumstances that suggest a cheaper purchase elsewhere. Soft coal fields have not been free from strife during the past week, and Pittsburgh has been a central figure in this feature also. We think that these reports may be safely laid aside with very little consideration, for the spirit of shrewd self-interest on the part of the mine workers' officials, in that district particularly, will discountenance any abrogation of the contract arrangements. In this anthracite trade there has also been a revival of strike talk, but we do not find that any of the practical men of the trade attach the least importance to this."

While some of the western railroads shared in the day's strength, stocks of the eastern and southern trunk lines were the conspicuous features of strength. The so-called differential lines enjoying the widest movements. Shares of these companies are comparatively insistive and so subject to more effect from manipulation or sudden executed orders. The intimations that the money control of these railroads was asserting itself to force a settlement of the issues which has been in force for some time were believed to afford a basis for today's movements.

When the action of the Erie directors is considered as a supplement to the increased dividends on Reading, Baltimore & Ohio and Amalgamated Copper and the retention for Illinois Central of that which was called an extra disbursement and designed to celebrate a notable occasion for the company there is presented quite a comprehensive array of evidence of the confidence existing among railroad managers in the stability of the conditions which have lifted the profits of operation so as to enable disbursements to stockholders.

United States government new 4s advanced ¼ per cent on call in New York.

Foreign exchange reacted sharply in spite of the hardening of London discounts and some attention was paid to reports of peace prospects and especially to the rise of Russian bonds in Paris.

DEFINITE PLANS FOR AVENUE SITE

Will Erect a Four-Story Fireproof Building to Cost at Least $125,000.

GOOD BUY IN OAKLAND

Following the adjustment of the insurance claims on the Avenue theater, definite plans for the new building to be erected on the site were announced yesterday by Architects MacClure & Spahr, who were commissioned by the Pittsburgh Opera House Company to design the structure. The building will be a fireproof structure, four stories high, and 80x114 feet in dimension. It will have a very showy, glazed terra cotta front, ornamented with glass, after the style of some of the world's fair buildings. On the first floor there will be an arcade 32 feet wide to connect with the arcade leading out to Diamond street. In the center of the building will be the entrance to the Grand opera house, which will also be 32 feet wide. The stores will occupy the remainder of the space on the right of the first floor. Handsome stairs will lead from this floor to the basement and also to the upper floors, and two elevators will be provided at the left of the floor. The ceiling of this story will be 20 feet high and the interior will be finely finished in marble and tile. On the second floor there will be room for 32 billiard tables and an equal number of billiard and pool tables will be found on the third floor. The fourth floor will be taken up entirely with bowling alleys. The basement will extend under the entire building, instead of part of it, as heretofore, and will be handsomely finished. Here there will be room for six more billiard tables than before the fire, so that there will be in the whole building about 100 tables, making it probably the largest billiard establishment in the country.

Work on the building will be started at once and will be carried forward by day and night gangs to get it done early in the fall. The estimated cost is put at $125,000. Harry Davis will occupy most of the building with his theater entrance and billiard rooms, but the store-room on the first floor will be rented.

Gets a Bargain in Oakland.

An Oakland purchase which is generally regarded as a bargain was made yesterday through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company. For the Guarantee Title and Trust Company, guardian, they sold to Theodore Cappell 25x80 feet on the south side of Forbes street, between Oakland avenue and Atwood street, for $10,500, or less than $500 a front foot. Compared with prices paid for other properties near there, this figure seems low. Mr. Cappell lately sold 25 feet in the same block three doors further west for $27,500, or $1,100 a foot, but it has on it a good brick house. The Oakland Savings and Trust Company bought 50x80 feet at the corner of Forbes and Atwood street two years ago for $1,000 a foot. The lot just sold is improved with two old frame buildings which Mr. Cappell proposes to replace with a four-story brick business block to cost $20,000.

Another $20,000 business block is assured as the result of a sale announced yesterday by the Jenson Friedman Company. The site is 60x100 feet on the southeast side of Webster avenue, near Miller street, and extending back to Black street, Eleventh ward. There are two 12-room brick houses on the lot, which will be moved back to make room for the business block. The property was owned by Jacob B. Deushner and the buyer is an Allegheny business man who paid $22,000 for the lot.

Sites for Americus Club.

The Americus club will have a number of good downtown sites to consider when it meets Saturday, August 5, to vote on the purchase of a lot. It is understood that an agreement has been secured from F. F. Nicola and Wilbur Shenk, by which these men will sell to the club 50 feet or more of the Seventh street frontage, at the corner of Duquesne way occupied by the Hotel Boyer, for $8,000 a foot. Another lot that will probably be offered to the club is the old site of the Home for Working Girls in Eighth street, which is vacant and which Harry Davis lately bought for $80,000. A third site that is being considered is the lot at the corner of Sixth avenue and Cherry alley, owned by the German Benefactal union and directly across the avenue from the Nixon theater. This measures 40x110 feet and is held to be worth $250,000. The club has already decided on two things—to sell its lot, 24x136 feet, at Penn avenue and Fourth street, for $100,000, if possible, and to spend from $100,000 to $150,000 for a site and probably $150,000 for a building. The best offer which had been made for the club's property up to a few days ago was $75,000. The committee in charge of the real estate deals is composed of W. I. Mustin, James Kirkwood and Adolph Adams. No sites above Grant street will be considered.

Oil Man to Build $80,000 House.

Emmett Queen, of the firm of Guffey & Queen, oil operators, who lately bought a large building site on the east side of Ellsworth avenue, near Bidwell street, Twentieth ward, has commissioned Architects Allen & Harlow to prepare plans for a residence which will be a marked addition to the neighborhood. The house will cost $80,000 or more and will contain 20 or 25 rooms. Bids on its erection will be taken next month. The site is near the costly home of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, and in one of the best residence portions of the city.

The Commonwealth Trust Company is making slow but steady progress with its plans for a skyscraper on the Dallmeyer lot in Fourth avenue, which was announced when the company bought the property two years ago. Preliminary surveys for the structure have been completed by the engineers and it is likely that plans will be started soon, although no architect has been announced. The site has a frontage of 96 feet in Fourth avenue, where property is worth at the least estimate $10,000 a foot. It adjoins the Holmes corner, which will be improved next year with a 20-story building, and the fact that the Commonwealth officials have announced their determination of going ahead next April with their building argues an unprecedented activity on that part of the avenue equal to that when the Arrott, the Peoples bank and the Keystone buildings were in course of erection.

Higher Price Is Reported.

It turns out that the price paid for the property at 329 Second avenue, the sale of which was published in The Gazette last Sunday, was $40,000, instead of $35,000, as first reported. John Ferguson takes title to the lot, and the purchase gives the Fergusons a block 90x100 feet just above Wood street, and running through from Second to Third avenue. The price is $2,000 a foot for 20x80 feet.

COFFEE HAS HALF-CENT RISE; FLOUR IS WEAK

Potatoes Are Scarce and the Price Will Probably Jump Today—Other Lines Firm.

Coffee made a sharp rise of a half cent on standard packages yesterday, both the Arbuckle and the Woolson spice mills producers advancing to 13¾c a pound. The advance was not unexpected, as the market has been growing stronger for the past couple of weeks.

Flour and sugar remained the same and the sugar market is said to have strengthened a little bit. Flour is weak and heavy shading is going on. The quotations might well be a dime or 10 cents lower than at present.

Canned goods are steady and evaporated fruits show a good line of sales. The 1905 crop has not come in yet, and the crop of last year is rapidly being disposed of. Prices on both canned goods and evaporated fruits are slightly higher.

Fruit and produce have made no substantial changes. Potatoes cannot be bought for present quotations and a sharp advance is looked for today. They jumped up over 25c yesterday. The price has gone up over 30 cents in Toledo. The early Ohio potato crop, upon which this section depends, has been a comparative failure. Wet weather and unfavorable growing season has been the cause. The yield is much lighter than anticipated and prices are jumping up rapidly as a result.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 16 cars oats, 2 cars corn, 11 cars hay, 2 cars straw; 2 cars feed, 1 car rye; Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars oats, 2 cars hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1 car hay.

Oats continue in fair demand. No. 1 hay is scarce and all receipts are readily taken. Millfeed shows no change. Business continues light.

GET 2,500 NEW CARS IN A DAY

Pennsylvania System Officers Confer on Easing of Freight Movements Here.

AGE LIMIT RULE PUT ASIDE

One of the leading officers of the Pennsylvania railroad says that the company will handle the heaviest tonnage of its history this fall and winter. The tonnage now is enormous, particularly that of iron and steel, while the merchandise freight is also heavy. In addition to these classes the shipment of grain in the fall is expeted to be larger than ever before over the Pennsylvania system.

Such conditions call for the most efficient movement of the thousands of cars daily through the Pittsburgh terminals, and also require an abundance of cars and motive power for handling the traffic. The Pennsylvania system will receive almost 700 locomotives for the freight service alone this year, while the freight car equipment will be increased about 20,000. The Pennsylvania railroad received last night 2,500 gondola cars of 100,000 pounds capacity from the Pressed Steel Car Company in one bunch. These cars are known as the "G. S. A. type" and are fitted with coke racks. A couple of weeks ago the car company delivered 500 "G. P. A. type" coke cars. There are still a large number being built at different car plants and these will be delivered in a short time. Pennsylvania lines officials know nothing of the reported rumor that 18,000 cars will be ordered for next year. They say the program has not been considered.

The superintendents, engineers, maintenance-of-way and trainmasters of the divisions of the Pennsylvania system terminating here accompanied General Agent H. A. Jaggard to Pitcairn in a special train yesterday afternoon to study out a plan by which each division can assist in an easier movement of freight. It is the desire to have each division arrange its own trains so far as practicable, so that the whole train or at least large "cuts" of cars from the train can be carried for all the same line in the Pitcairn yards. This is to be done to assist the movements at Pitcairn, while the improvements are under way there. It will be possible by this arrangement to run some of the trains through Pitcairn without having the train enter the yards. Such trains will be handled similar to the preference freight trains which are run between eastern and western cities without change excepting engines and caboose.

The conference of these officials at Pitcairn will not alter the through and local routing arrangements, which were revised to date last week by General Superintendent of Freight Transportation A. B. Starr and Superintendent of Freight Transportation R. M. Patterson and other officials of the lines west and east.

Must Disregard Age Limit.

"Neither wise, natural, philosophical nor grateful" is the stigma placed upon the age limit rule for hiring employes on the railroads of America, or at least on a number of them. The rule is only a few years old, having been in vogue on the Pennsylvania lines, the Chicago & Alton, the Burlington, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Boston & Albany for the past three years, and upon some of the other roads for a shorter period. Owing to the ill-effect of the rule and its being fought by some of the more conservative railroad officers and almost all employes for the entire period of its enforcement, it is said that the idea of the rule has had to be abandoned. Such action will be a source of gratification to every railroad man. Many claim it was some "dashing" notion expressed by some one in a moment of little thought of its real meaning, and that it deserves to be placed in the curio collection of opinions, like that of Dr. Osler.

The roads have found that experience and adaptability go farther toward giving efficient service in the several departments than does the downiness of a fellow's beard. The Alton, like a number of other roads, had the requirement that no man over 35 years old would be given service with the company in any capacity. Now it has rescinded that rule and will get at least 50 per cent of its new men from the ranks over this age limit. The policies of the Burlington, St. Paul and Boston & Albany managements have also been changed, and it was said yesterday that the Pennsylvania has had to change its policy in this regard a number of times. In general, all other things being equal, the rule will be enforced, the younger men being preferred because of the likelihood of their giving longer and more active service and at the same time not reaching the pension age so soon. Should the age limit rule be strictly enforced on all lines there would be very few changes in any of the departments. This is one of the cruel aspects of the rule, for it not only was fought by the men in service on the ground that if they resigned they could secure service on no other line, but was for the same reason also a scare to young men who would like to enter the service.

Largest Excursion of Season.

The Pennsylvania railroad handled the largest seashore excursion of the season so far yesterday to Atlantic City. There were four extra sections run for train No. 12 at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, three of which carried full loads of passengers from this city. The fourth train picked up a train load of passengers at points between here and Johnstown. Two extra sections of train No. 16 were run last evening, these being composed mainly of sleeping cars. On every through train yesterday, except the limited trains, extra coaches and Pullman cars were handled, this extra equipment amounting to about half of that in the special trains. It was estimated that 2,000 persons took advantage of the low rate excursion.

Settlement Expected Today.

Announcement will probably be made today whether the Baltimore & Ohio will be allowed to operate its own service from the Ohio river division at Wheeling into Pittsburgh over its own line peaceably or against the wishes of the Pennsylvania system. It was stated officially yesterday that the matter was being conferred upon by the higher officials of the Pennsylvania lines and the Baltimore & Ohio, but that the ruling would not be settled until today, and probably not until tomorrow. Meanwhile the Baltimore & Ohio is going ahead with checking all its time cards for the new service and is advertising the important change.

Railroad Notes.

President L. E. Johnson of the Norfolk & Western sailed for Europe Wednesday.

A. D. Smith has been appointed assistant passenger agent of the Pennsylvania system at St. Paul.

B. W. Duer, superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio, returned from Baltimore.

A large number of the Panhandle railroad men attended the annual picnic of the Carnegie merchants and citizens at Rock Springs.

N. K. Hoffman, superintendent of car service of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, was at Ashtabula looking into the lake coal situation.

Charles Watts, general superintendent of passenger transportation, Pennsylvania lines west, has returned from a jaunt to North Carolina.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie surgeons, headed by Dr. J. R. Milligan, chief surgeon, enjoyed a dinner and social hour together at Allquippa park Wednesday night.

The Yoegtly Cadets, a private military organization, will leave in two special cars over the Wabash today for Erie, Mich., where the 75 members will go into camp for two weeks.

The Pennsylvania lines have received five new vestibuled and electric-lighted coaches. They will be placed in the Pittsburgh and Erie and Pittsburgh and Wheeling service.

It is announced that a building for the use of the road men while awaiting their runs or while laying over at Beaver Falls will be built in connection with the improvements at that place.

The five young men arrested upon complaint of the Baltimore & Ohio for selling trip passes or being implicated in the sale of such passes, were held for court trial at the hearing before Alderman J. V. McMasters.

J. M. Barrett, formerly superintendent of terminals of the Baltimore & Ohio at Wheeling, and latterly superintendent of the Chicago and Lima divisions of the Erie, has been appointed superintendent of terminals of the latter road at New York.

The total coal and coke shipments of the Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie for the week ended July 22 amounted to 861,281 tons. For the year to that date the tonnage was 24,132,020 tons, an increase of 2,417,232 tons over the same period last year.

N. D. Maher, general manager of the Norfolk & Western, who spent the past two days here conferring with Pennsylvania lines officers, went to Washington last night. He visited his classmate and friend, John B. Head of Greensburg, who is a candidate for superior court judge, on his way east last evening. Mr. Maher said that the Norfolk & Western had just closed the best year of its history.

Conneaut Lake or Ashtabula $2.50, Erie $3.00, North East $3.25 Round Trip Via Pennsylvania Lines.
All trains Saturday and Sunday morning, good returning until Monday.

GENERAL STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Conflict Against Youngstown, Girard, Greenville and Warren Mills Comes to End.

NATIONAL BOARD IS TO ACT

Strikes which have been on one year under the direction of the Amalgamated association against the steel hoop mills at Youngstown and Warren, O., and Girard and Greenville, Pa., were declared off yesterday at a meeting of the executive board of the Sixth district, which was held in the rooms of the national association in the House building.

The mills are all operated by the Carnegie Steel Company and several thousand puddlers and finishers were out. The cause for strike was a general reduction in the wage scale, ranging, it is said, from 20 to 80 per cent.

While the district board acted with full authority in calling off these strikes, President Shaffer said yesterday afternoon that the board has no right to declare the mills open. This right rests with the advisory board of the National association, and while the district board has the right to declare strikes off, the men are not permitted to return to the mills until the advisory board gives formal permission by ordering and declaring the mills open. It is said that men who now return to work will forfeit their rights as union men.

When asked when the advisory board would act in the matter, President Shaffer stated that he would call a meeting of the board as soon as he was requested to do so by the strikers, but would not predict what action would take place if a meeting be called. It is believed the advisory board will again declare the mills open, for the strikers have urgently requested the calling off of the strike and appear satisfied to accept the terms of the steel company after a long and fruitless fight.

FIVE ARE IMPLICATED IN MISUSE OF B. & O. PASSES

Office Boy and Four Others Are Held for Court and Name of Official's Son Mentioned.

At a hearing before Alderman McMasters yesterday afternoon, Clarence L. Riddle, W. H. Hookey, L. F. Bynon, John Reed and C. R. Richardson were held for court on charges of fraudulent issuance and use of Baltimore & Ohio railroad employe passes, all giving bail for appearance.

Owen C. Castle, chief clerk in the office of Supt. Duer, testified that Riddle was the office boy and had charge of books containing 100 countersigned passes each. Several weeks ago three books were missing and the matter was reported to Railroad Detective Joseph Delehanty, who is said to have found the books in the home of Riddle.

Riddle is said to have admitted giving the other defendants passes, and that 277 were issued, of which 87 were later returned to the company through the regular channels. The passes which could not be identified in the general returns, are estimated to have been worth $1,600 to $1,800 in transportation.

Detective Delehanty testified that Riddle admitted giving the other defendants the passes, who are said to have divided the proceeds with Riddle. The other defendants were said to have admitted receiving from $8 to $10 each for the sale of the passes.

Attorneys for the defense in cross-examination tried to make Castle admit that R. B. Ways, Jr., son of R. B. Ways, Sr., an official in the railroad company, had been implicated in the disposal of the passes and had been shielded and spirited away. Attorneys for the company objected to the questioning, and witness would not admit that Ways was implicated.

Picnic of Railroad Men.

The tenth annual picnic of the Pennsylvania lines will be held at Rock Point tomorrow. The committee expects to send five or six train loads of clerks and their families and friends. The music will be by the Great Western Italian band and the hours allotted are from 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon, 1 to 5 p. m. and 6 to 8:30 p. m. Amusements in abundance have been provided and several athletic contests will take place. Considerable interest is being manifested in the ball game at Ellwood City at 3:30 p. m. between the Pennsylvania lines and Ellwood City teams and a big crowd is expected to go over from Rock Point to "root" for the railroad boys. The first train leaves Carnegie via Ohio Connecting bridge at 7:45 a. m., city time. The second train leaves Pittsburgh at 8:10 and the next at 8:45. The noon train leaves Pittsburgh at 12:30, city time. Returning trains will leave Rock Point at 5:30 p. m., 8 p. m. and 9:45 p. m. C. C. Miller is chairman, W. F. Wolfe, secretary, and W. I. McQuown, treasurer of the general committee. W. S. McCutcheon has charge of the amusements, E. H. Lenz of the sports and W. H. Beighel of dancing. The Union station will be practically deserted on account of this annual picnic.

Passenger Rate War Extending.

The passenger rate war brought on by the giving of a differential to the Michigan Central has not only resulted in a war upon rates between New York and Chicago, but has also brought into the fight the Canadian Pacific on its business from Chicago to Boston, via Montreal. The Grand Trunk made a cut of $4 50 from the $17 50 rate, and the Canadian Pacific has been forced to follow with a similar rate from Boston to Detroit. What steps have been taken toward a settlement of this war cannot be learned. The report that a meeting of the presidents or the vice presidential heads of the traffic departments would be held in New York to settle the problem is again current, but no one in Pittsburgh knows anything about the matter or refuses to talk about it in an official way.

15 YEARS OF TORTURE

Itching and Painful Sores Covered Head and Body.

CURED IN WEEK BY CUTICURA

"For fifteen years my scalp and forehead was one mass of scabs, and my body was covered with sores. Words cannot express how I suffered from the itching and pain. I had given up hope when a friend told me to get Cuticura. After bathing with Cuticura Soap and applying Cuticura Ointment for three days, my head was as clear as ever, and to my surprise and joy, one cake of soap and one box of ointment made a complete cure in one week.
